THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXIII. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 5, 1892. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

[A]GAINST HARRISON.

[A] Strong Movement Among Republicans to Oppose the President.

[THEY] WILL HOLD A CONFERENCE,

[And] Agree Upon a Man to Match Against Grandfather's Hat.

[BLAINE], LINCOLN, REED OR M'KINLEY,

[Will] Go Before the Minneapolis Convention Against Harrison—McKinley Stands a Good Show.

Washington, May 4.—(Special.)—Such republican leaders as Clarkson, Quay, Teller, Wolcott, Burrows, Tom Platt and others are to hold a conference here this week on the political situation. It is to be antagonistic to the renomination of Harrison. They don't know just how Blaine stands, but if he is out of the contest, they will consider but three names—Robert T. Lincoln, Thomas B. Reed and William McKinley, Jr.

Reed has not many supporters among the leaders. They believe his nomination would drive the third party people of the south and west back into the democratic party, and with him they would lose all chances of carrying either Virginia or West Virginia, both of which states they have been counting on of late. While Reed will be urged, there is little chance of his success.

McKinley is the strongest man with the anti-Harrison people, but there are many who think that Lincoln would be the easiest man to elect. His father's name, they believe, would carry him a long way and besides that he is recognized as a thoroughly able man himself.

Should either McKinley or Lincoln be brought out the majority of republican senators and members believe Harrison would fail in his efforts to secure a renomination. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, Reed's chief assistant, thinks McKinley will be the nominee.

He Can't Leave.

Speaker Crisp is constantly in receipt of invitations to attend various celebrations, but is uniformly declining them all, as he does not feel that he can leave Washington until the final adjournment of this session of congress. He has for this reason declined invitations to attend the Memphis, Tenn., bridge opening; the Mecklenburg revolutionary celebration, and numerous invitations from Georgia, several organizations in which state are very desirous that he should make a speech to the people of his home state. Those persons making invitations are frequently importunate and disinclined to accept a negative answer; but the speaker, nevertheless, feels that, much as he would like to accept the invitations, his duties require his constant presence in Washington.

Illinois Favors a Western Man.

Speaker Craft, of the Illinois house of representatives, a man who has always been a hearty admirer of Mr. Cleveland, is here. In speaking of the political situation this morning, he said that he saw evidences of a steady decline in the Cleveland stock. He said that there was undoubtedly a strong sentiment in favor of Cleveland in Illinois; that the people generally honored and liked Cleveland; but that there was a spreading doubt as to the advisability of giving him the nomination. The resolutions adopted at the state convention, he said, expressed pretty well the feeling in Illinois.

The first question that will come up in the caucuses and conferences of the various delegations, when they get to Chicago, will be whether a western man or an eastern man should be nominated. If they decide on a western man the Illinois delegation will, of course, present Mr. Palmer and do all they can for him. An eastern man does not necessarily mean Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Cleveland's defeat will not necessarily mean that the nomination is going to the west. Some other eastern man than Cleveland may be nominated.

"What do you think of Whitney?" was asked.

"I do not think it likely that his name will take in the west," was his reply. "The eastern man who is strongest in the west, in my opinion, is Senator Gorman. He is very popular in the west and has a considerable general following in that section. If Mr. Cleveland is defeated, which seems not improbable, Mr. Gorman has the best chance possessed by any eastern man for the nomination. A number of the Illinois delegates are Gorman men."

"How about Hill?"

"Senator Hill has some support in the Illinois delegation. I do not think he deserves the abuse he gets, and I do not think that one who has been of such service as he has, and who has accomplished what he has, should be jumped on and declared an unfit man for president. I do not say this in advocacy of his nomination. The argument at the national convention in favor of a western man will be that it is the field for new work; that the republicans put up a western man generally, and we always have put up one from the east and have had him beaten except in the one instance where the republicans nominated an eastern man also. Then they were both eastern men, and Cleveland was elected."

Silver and Sentiment.

Congressman Bill Pierce, of Tennessee, who has just returned from home, says he found considerable Cleveland sentiment in Tennessee.

"The feeling is strong," said he, "and an effort will be made to have the delegates to the national convention instructed for him by the state convention. I do not think it will be successful. The farmers and country people are all at sea. They care for anybody who is for the free coinage of silver."

"Do you think Cleveland will be nominated?"

"I hardly think he will be. I admit that it looks now as if he would have the largest number of delegates, but if the New York delegates convince our people that he cannot carry New York it will prevent his nomination. The people in the south are for somebody who can win. They do not want to throw their votes into the air."

Polk Plagiarizing.

Colonel Livingston says President Polk, of the alliance, is stealing his thunder. In Polk's interview in The Birmingham Age-Herald he speaks out in favor of the government issuing money to the states and allowing the states to loan it out to individuals. Colonel Livingston introduced just such a bill as Colonel Polk proposes on the 4th of April. Colonel Livingston's bill is now in the hands of the ways and means committee.

Romans at the Capital.

Judge Joel Branham, Mr. J. W. Rounsaville and Mr. Jack King, of Rome, are here as a committee representing the city of Rome. They will ask congress to incorporate in the river and harbor bill an appropriation for a survey of the rivers at Rome to ascertain the cost of constructing a levee around the city.

A Southern Candidate.

Mr. J. L. Weber, one of the editors of The Charleston News and Courier, is here. Mr. Weber is a candidate for the vacancy on the civil service commission to succeed Mr. Thompson, resigned. He is endorsed by the South Carolina delegation and his friends say his application is looked upon with favor by the president.

They Are Delighted.

The Georgia congressmen are delighted with the news from home to the effect that the counties which acted yesterday went two-thirds against Cleveland.

The majority of the Georgians do not believe that Mr. Cleveland could be elected were he nominated and therefore they think the wisest thing the convention could do is to look elsewhere for a candidate.

Colonel Winn today passed through the house his bill to pay Nehemiah Garrison $750 in accordance with a judgment from the court of claims.

Colonel E. B. Stahlman and Mr. Barbour Thompson, of Atlanta, are here.

NATIVES RAN THE MEETING.

George Winstead the Republican Nominee in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., May 4.—The republican state convention met today. The contest over the leadership of the party was between Congressman Houk and the "native" element and ex-Congressman Evans and middle Tennessee office holders. About seven hundred delegates were in attendance. H. B. Lindsay, of Knoxville, who was the representative of Houk's friends, and S. W. Hawkins, United States district attorney for west Tennessee, who represented Evans's side, were nominated for permanent chairman. The election of Lindsay was announced. Then for fifty-five minutes the convention was beyond control. All the delegates were yelling for "division," for "fair vote" on every side. Both Lindsay and Hawkins made speeches, stating that they wanted a fair vote and a vote was taken, again resulting in the election of Lindsay. He was seated. George W. Winstead, of Drysden; John E. McCall, of Lexington, and John W. Wooten, of East Tennessee, were placed in nomination for governor. During the balloting, Wooten's name was withdrawn. The ballot resulted: McCall, 270; Winstead, 412, and Winstead's nomination was made unanimous. D. A. Nunn, John C. Houk, H. Clay Evans and J. C. Napier, colored, were elected delegates from the state at large to the national convention. They are instructed to vote for the renomination of President Harrison. T. Owenby, of Nashville, and A. T. Matthews were elected presidential electors for the state at large. E. W. Hill was recommended for a member of the national executive committee.

THEY WOULDN'T LISTEN.

The Michigan Democrats Didn't Want to Have Any Unpleasant Truths.

Muskegon, Mich., May 4.—(Special.)—The Cleveland men of Michigan won't listen to anybody who doesn't agree with them. That they demonstrated today in their disgraceful treatment of Delegate O'Brien Atkinson in the state convention here. Upon the submission of the platform to the convention, Mr. Atkinson rose, and his rising was the signal for a furious outburst. He declared in general terms against the principle of binding the delegation to vote for any one man, and then accused Cleveland of inability to carry his own state. Cries of "Turn him out!" arose from every portion of the building. Men rose in their seats, and showed a disposition to forcibly eject him. Confusion reigned for the time being. Every one was speaking, and no one could be heard. At length, Atkinson was shouted down, and, after a series of proposals, the drift of which it was impossible to catch, the platform was adopted.

The platform favors making the tariff the leading issue, and instructs the delegates to vote as one man for the nomination of Cleveland.

The delegates at large are: Spencer C. Fish, Don M. Dickinson, Edward Ryan and Edward F. Uhl.

JOHN J. INGALLS REAPPEARS.

He Has Lived Down His Unpopularity, and Is Coming to the Front.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 4.—The republican state convention to elect delegates at large to the Minneapolis convention and to nominate a congressman at large will be held here tomorrow. The republicans expect to reverse the alliance majorities of two years ago. There are eight candidates for places as delegates at large. Among them is John J. Ingalls, whose return to active political life will be made at this convention. Ingalls is now probably the most popular with his party of all Kansas republican leaders. It is proposed to put him at the head of the delegation to Minneapolis.

A Sensation in Court.

Brunswick, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Frank D. Aiken is suing Wheelwright & Co., lumber dealers, for money due on a contract not fulfilled. Today a sensation was created by Aiken's counsel seeking to impeach the evidence of N. B. Borden, of Fernandina, manager for Wheelwright. Borden is wealthy, and controls a vast business. Messrs. John Cook and John H. McCullough, for the plaintiff, swore they would not believe Borden on oath.

To Outwit the Lawyer.

Trenton, N. J., May 4.—Edward Hallinger, the negro wife murderer of Jersey City, who has been sentenced to hang twice, but saved each time through his lawyer, Charles J. Peschall, who asked for writs of habeas corpus, will, it is reported, be sentenced in Hudson county courts of oyer and terminer tomorrow morning to be hanged in the afternoon. This unusual proceeding will be justified, it is said, in order to keep Lawyer Peschall from appealing the case again, as one appeal has just been set aside by the United States supreme court.

The Chess Match.

New York, May 4.—The seventh game of the Lipschutz-Showalter chess match occurred today. Ruy Lopez, defended by Lipschutz with 3 PQ 3, was won by Showalter by a brilliant combination after thirty-nine moves. The score now is: Lipschutz, 3; Showalter, 1; drawn, 3.

A Dishonest Knight of Honor.

Augusta, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—E. R. Cunningham, the defaulting collector of the Knights of Honor, who misappropriated $600 of the lodge money, has been expelled from the order. Cunningham has skipped. He is known to be in Winston, N. C., but no efforts will be made to have him brought back.

TRUE TO THE ORDER.

Alliancemen Are Not in Politics as a Body.

WILL VOTE FOR THE DEMANDS.

The Third Party People Get a Backset.

THEIR SCHEME FELL THROUGH.

They Tried to Capture the Farmers' Organization but Failed Utterly—The Official Announcement.

Birmingham, Ala., May 4.—(Special.)—Considerable differences of opinion are known to have developed in the alliance conference as to the extent to which the order should be influenced in politics.

The people's party idea prevailed by a large majority, but the element that opposed taking the alliance as an order into politics was strong enough to force a compromise. Some of the members proclaimed their right to freedom under the constitution of the order to vote as they pleased and the address formally accords that right. But all members of the order are urged to vote for their demands. The proceedings were harmonious and it is understood the members go home with a general purpose to hold the alliance out of local politics, as individuals supporting alliance principles.

The Age-Herald was furnished with the following as a correct statement of the alliance proceedings and prospects: "The day has been spent in receiving reports from different states upon the situation and perfect harmony seems to prevail and wise conservatism that will prevent any redical action governs the entire work. All present express a determined support of alliance principles by their constituents and seem to be disposed to keep the order entirely free from any partisan estrangements."

Words of Advice.

Following is the text of the address:

To the Brotherhood of National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union: We, the presidents and executive officers of the states of Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Texas, Louisiana, Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, West Virginia and Florida, together with the members of our national executive committee, national legislative committee, national judiciary committee and President Polk, having been called together in council to consider the reported peculiar conditions in the order in the southern states, which it was believed seriously threatened that harmony, brotherly love and unity of action so necessary to the success of our cause, and success of our order in these states, after counseling together and hearing detailed reports, rejoice to say to you that we feel greatly encouraged and inspired by the splendid spirit of unity and determined adherence to principle which pervades the order in nearly every one of these states, notwithstanding the combined efforts of our enemies to sow seeds of discord in our ranks, pending heated political contests, local and national.

We therefore feel it our duty as servants of the people we represent, standing upon the outposts and watchtowers of this, the greatest political revolution ever known to the nation, to say to you that we have entered the crucial period in the history of our great reform movement in which the greatest caution, earnest deliberation and strict adherence to our principles, are necessary to preserve intact that organization which stands today as the sheet anchor and hope of millions of wealth producers in the great battle for the God-given rights of humanity. You are congratulated upon the great harmony and unity of sentiment in regard to the alliance principles which prevails within your borders and upon the fact that a careful canvass of the subject at this meeting has shown that practically the members of the order in these states stand squarely upon their demands, with the avowed determination of holding devotion to them above that to any method of action, and that today the number of those who so endorsed the principles of the alliance is much greater than ever before.

The sentiment also prevails, strong and uniform, that this great order as an organization is the greatest of all modern forces for the spread of reform education, and that its work must be perpetuated and encouraged in this high sphere entirely free from any partisan entanglements. The only dangers which seem in any way to threaten a lack of the fullest development and prosperity of the order are those which attend the disposition of a few men and papers to publicly criticise and condemn others for their method. This is not of sufficient extent to damage our order but it mars that perfect unity that should prevail, and always injures all concerned and is contrary to the spirit of brotherly love and forbearance that should prevail. Another evil which fortunately prevails only in very few localities, is the disposition of members to seek political office at the hands of their brethren, forgetting that principle of alliance doctrine which declares that the office should seek the man and not the man the office. In consideration of these views as to the situation, the following rules of action are suggested as well calculated to enable the order to go through the coming ordeal of fierce political contest and come out strengthened and purified:

1. Let a spirit of harmony prevail and let unity of action be the rule. Let none condemn a brother who stands squarely by principles of the order or speak in any way disparagingly or disrespectfully of him because they may differ as to the best methods of enforcing our principles. Grant to every brother honesty of purpose.

2. Let fealty to the principles of the order be the true and only test of membership and let those who value partisan affiliations more than their alliance obligations be informed that their order demands strict and full devotion to its principles and leaves each to his own choice as to methods, but that method can in no case control principle and, therefore, all who affiliate should accept as supreme the principles of the order.

3. Every member who takes the obligation always administered to those who join, is first told as a condition precedent and upon which all that is to follow is predicated: "That it shall in no way interfere with your political or religious liberty." Therefore, this order as such, or any of its branches, has no right to take any partisan, political or sectarian religious action. We urge upon the brotherhood of all reform associations and all good citizens who believe, as we do, that the enactment of laws based upon our demands is for the preservation of free institutions of our government and to rescue the masses from degraded servitude, that they use all honorable means to secure the election of men to our national legislative council who stand pledged to work for the passage of such laws.

Finally, brethren, remember that devotion to our principles is only to be emphasized and our influence made effective by voting for our demands at the ballot box. We send greeting to the brotherhood in the north and the great northwest, and assure them that our hearts beat in unison with them in their efforts for industrial freedom, and we will stand by them in all laudable efforts to redeem this country from the clutches of organized capital and that we will stand with them at the ballot box for the enforcement of our demands.

Signed by all the members of the conference.

TO STIR UP STRIFE.

Augusta Is in for a Fierce Prohibition Campaign.

Augusta, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Augusta will not be spared a prohibition fight this summer.

This information comes from Mrs. William C. Sibley, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which association will manage the prohibition campaign. She says the election could not be deferred even if the ladies wanted to postpone it, as the people are red-hot now for the issue to be made, and demand that an election be held. She says 200 petitions to Ordinary Walton requesting him to order an election are in circulation and about one thousand names have been signed to it. A sufficient number of names has been secured, and Ordinary Walton will next week be asked to call an election within the time specified by law, which is sixty days.

So it may be calculated with a degree of certainty that Richmond county will vote on the prohibition question sometime in July. Mrs. Sibley says she has received notes from three different liquor dealers telling her they have concluded to go out of business and will enter the fight for prohibition.

Sunday night Rev. Timmons passed around one of the prohibition petitions in St. Luke's church, and City Councilman Elliot and fifty others signed it. The antiprohibitionists are not at all afraid of losing the fight, and they are preparing for war to the knife and are mustering their forces. They are well organized. Two out of three of Augusta's daily newspapers have declared against prohibition. The third has not yet announced. Conservative business men are not in favor of prohibition, as they consider it would act injuriously to Augusta's commercial interests.

QUARTERMAIN'S QUEER STORY.

He Tells How He Came to Mysteriously Disappear.

Waycross, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—T. A. Quarterman, the young man who disappeared so mysteriously at Douglas, Ga., on the night of the 20th of last March, arrived here this morning on the Brunswick and Western train from Albany.

His disappearance has been up to the present time the sensation of Coffee and the adjoining counties. Farmers, merchants and other abandoned their work and went in search of his body which they supposed had been thrown into some creek or river. Every swamp, ravine and thicket in Coffee county was searched. Ponds, pools and lakes were dragged, but to no purpose.

Detectives were put to work but they could find no clue. Suspicion rested on several persons who came very near being lynched. All this and all that has been done since they failed to find and trace of the young man's whereabouts.

The story which he tells is a strange one. He claims that he was overpowered in his room after retiring by two strange men and chloroformed. He did not regain consciousness until he arrived at Key West, Fla., in a tugboat. He thinks he was taken to the Ocmulgee river in a wagon, thence to Brunswick and Key West in this tugboat. He was taken out of the tugboat at Key West where he made his escape.

He says he then boarded another vessel and was taken to Central American ports. The vessel returned to Mobile where he left it and started for Waycross.

He cannot imagine the object of the men in kidnaping him, unless it was to get a reward. He has a faint recollection of hearing them speak about getting a reward, though he cannot remember their conversation. They did not abuse him in any way. They were kind but firm.

He says he offered no resistance after the scuffle in the room, as he realized that he was completely in their power.

NOT FOR SALE.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Denies the Report.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 4.—(Special.)—There has been considerable interest awakened in railroad circles by the report that H. B. Plant, president of the Plant railway and steamship lines, had recently visited Jacksonville for the purpose of examining the books of the Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad Company, and that he had subsequently purchased that property. The Constitution's correspondent today called upon the management of the latter company, who denied the rumor as false and absurd. Owners of the Florida Central and Peninsula railroad state that their company has done much toward the development of Florida, and that much more remains to be done in the construction of branches and extensions, and that, until this work is accomplished, the property is not for sale. The reported bonded indebtedness of the company of about ten millions is more than trebly exaggerated, so say inside sources.

MORPHINE AND MYSTERY.

A Young Lady Is at Death's Door from an Overdose of the Drug.

Albany, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The city was considerably excited today over the rumor that Miss Mollie Neundefor, a very prominent young lady, was at death's door, having taken an overdose of morphine.

The fatal drug was supposed to have been taken about 1 o'clock last night. Early this morning physicians were called and all day they have exerted their skill in their efforts to save the young lady's life. At this hour there is a slight hope of her recovery. She has been unconscious all day and it has been impossible to learn whether it was by accident or intentional.

She has been ill for several days, a fact which makes it impossible to tell if it was with suicidal intent or purely an accident.

SHE DID NOT COME BACK.

Little Mary Carnes Thought She Would Not Live Long.

Adairsville, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Mr. William Carnes, a farmer, lives about ten miles from here and about three miles from Plainville, on the Thomas Turner river plantation. The boys were planting corn on a creek bottom, and being in a hurry to get to work had early breakfast. Their mother sent their dinner to the field early by her daughter Mary, a beautiful child of eleven years. She said to the boys that she would drop corn for them a while. She did so, but soon quit, and went to the creek to fish. They soon missed her, but thought nothing of it. When she did not come back they became uneasy about her, and went to hunt for her. The body was recovered in twelve feet of water. She had slipped off the steep bank. She was a child noted for her Christian graces. She was loved by all the neighbors. One thing peculiar is that some days ago Mary told her parents that she would not live long, and that the world was all going wrong. The interment was near here yesterday.

FIRE IN NEWNAN.

The Residence of Mrs. Angus Brewster Destroyed by the Flames.

Newnan, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The residence of Mr. Angus P. Brewster was burned this morning at 2 o'clock. The fire was undoubtedly incendiary. Mr. Brewster kept his meat in the house. It being a large two-story building. About two weeks since he drove some one away from his house who was trying to break in and steal his meat. The fire broke out in that part of the house where the meat was kept and no one had been about there with fire or light. The supposition is that the house was burglarized and then set on fire.

Mr. A. P. Brewster is a brother of Colonel P. H. Brewster, of the firm of Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, attorneys of Atlanta.

Conclave of Knights Templar.

Americus, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The thirty-first annual conclave of the grand commandery of the state of Georgia met in Americus today. About one hundred visiting knights are in the city from Columbus, Rome, Macon, Savannah, Augusta, Atlanta, Forsyth and other places. There was an imposing street parade. A large number of visitors are in town. All are receiving royal entertainment. The conclave may possibly close tomorrow.

Professor Wright Elected.

Thomasville, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The trustees this afternoon elected Professor Anton Wright first assistant teacher at the South Georgia college in the place of Major Snively.

HOW IS THIS?

Will "Ocala Democrats" Be Allowed to Vote with Democrats?

THE COFFEE COUNTY SHUT OUT

It Brings Up a Grave Question for the State Committee.

MORE POLITICS IN THE ELEVENTH.

A Delegate Expresses His Views—The Outlook in the District as Seen by a Staff Correspondent.

Pearson, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Here's a pretty "howdy do" down here in Coffee county, politically speaking.

Perhaps there is no county within the confines of the "bloody eleventh" district that is half so excited over the heated campaign between Atkinson and Turner for congress as is Coffee.

The county acted last Saturday, selecting ten delegates from each district to represent the people of every region of the county at a subsequent meeting, the purpose of which will be to endorse a candidate for congress for the democratic nomination and select delegates to the district convention.

The elections of delegates to the county meeting in all of the districts were lively and red hot. Turner seems to have carried the day, having received a majority of votes the county over, but some sensational developments were evolved out of the election that threaten to raise a mighty howl, not only through the eleventh district, but throughout Georgia as well, for the question is taking on great proportions.

Reference is made to the shutting out of Ocala platform believers at the polls. This was done here at Pearson, and it is claimed that large numbers of voters were allowed representation at the ballot box because they were of the Ocala faith.

A Grave Question This.

Now, it is a timely question in Georgia: Are the democrats going to allow Ocala platform people to vote in their primaries and elections?

The sooner the state democratic executive committee decides this question, the safer for Georgia democracy, for a certain hitch is going to result until this question is answered one way or the other.

This one little precinct at Pearson has put the question squarely before the state. Men who have voted the democratic ticket all their lives, farmers who believe in the Ocala platform, but who do not believe in the St. Louis platform, and who came to the polls to vote with democrats as democrats, were turned away because, as alliancemen, they believed in the Ocala platform.

A Delegate Talks About It.

Wouldn't it be of interest to look deep into the doings of the Pearson democrats?

Today I met Mr. J. L. Tyson, of this place, who was at the election where this question was raised, and who was elected by the convention as one of the delegates.

"What about the shut-out given to Ocala democrats?" I asked him.

"Well, I didn't understand it very clearly. The chairman of the meeting stated that nobody but 'straightout' democrats should vote. He said that he had received his instructions from the county democratic executive committee to require that none but straightout democrats be allowed to vote.

"Somebody asked him if the Ocala platform believers would be allowed in the primary, and he said no.

"Then they went away from the meeting in large numbers, though they said they were willing to abide the action of the democratic party's state and national conventions."

"Were they sore at such treatment?"

"Yes, they seemed to take it to heart very much. I thought it was very unfair treatment myself, though I am as earnest a democrat as lives. I am an allianceman, too, and I don't subscribe fully to the Ocala platform, but, so long as a man keeps out of the third party and squarely in the democratic party, I think it is to be deplored when they are kept from voting in a democratic primary because they believe in the Ocala platform.

"Yes, I was opposed to turning them out, and, if this is kept up all over Georgia, I think it will work to the detriment of the democratic party."

Outlook in the District.

A leading democrat in this district said today that some lively times may be expected here, yet, before the campaign goes much further.

"Suppose this shutting out of Ocala democrats continues," said he, "they will be very apt to pull loose from the district convention and have delegates to go from each county to hold a convention of their own—not a third-party convention, but an Ocala democratic convention, and put out a candidate of their own.

"This will bring the farmers and city voters to a direct fight. I hope this won't result, for it will be a dangerous split in the party. I would much prefer to see the Ocala democrats—in other words, the alliance democrats—allowed to vote in the regular democratic primaries, so long as they are disposed to abide the conventions of the democratic party, state and national."

"Well, if these Ocala democrats are shut out and have a democratic convention of their own, will Atkinson continue to be their candidate?"

"That, I don't know."

A Deadlock Perhaps.

The prospect is good for a long and tenacious deadlock in this district's congressional convention.

Roberts is certain to have four or five counties, maybe more.

Atkinson and Turner will probably divide the other ten or fifteen counties—then will come the deadlock, and it depends entirely on who'll flop first in the making of a congressman. REMSEN CRAWFORD.

FORSYTH FOR HILL.

The County's Delegates Are All Strong Hill Men.

Cumming, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The democrats of Forsyth county met in mass meeting at the courthouse yesterday, at the call of the chairman of the executive committee, and selected Hill delegates to the May convention. The meeting was called to order by Hon. George L. Bell, and, after a very appropriate speech from him, which was well received, the meeting organized by electing Hon. A. J. Julian chairman, and J. F. Duffey secretary.

A strong platform of principles was then unanimously adopted. It condemns the billion dollar congress. They are for a tariff laid upon luxuries, and not upon raw material nor the necessaries of life; hence, they oppose the existing tariff intended to protect the interest of the rich, and at the expense of the labor of the poor. They are for the unrestricted coinage of both silver and gold, and a circulating medium in the form of coin certificates or treasury notes, based thereon and redeemable therein, sufficient in volume to meet the business exigencies of the country and maintain stability in remunerative prices for labor and its produce, and thus emancipate the finances of the country from the control of national banks manipulated by Lombard and Wall streets. They are invincibly opposed to the ownership by the government of railroads, telegraphs and telephones, and favor the existing system of control by the interstate commerce commission.

They express their unqualified endorsement of the administration of Hon. W. J. Northen, Georgia's farmer governor, as able, faithful and wise. They instruct the delegates for the county to support delegates to the national democratic convention who will vote for the most capable and available man for our leadership in the approaching campaign, without regard to the personal preference of said delegates. They pledge their support to the nominee of that convention.

"We condemn the effort now being made by our country's enemies to break the solid south by dividing our people, who are bound together by all the sacred memories of the past and all the bright hopes of the future," the resolutions say, "and we announce our eternal hostility to the third party movement, which threatens such dire consequences to our beloved land. We disapprove of the course of Hon. Thomas E. Winn in deserting the democratic party. Honor, manhood and every principle of right and justice demand that he should give up the party's office when he abandoned its principles. He should resign and let his place be filled by one who will not betray the trust. In this connection we desire to endorse the candidacy of Hon. F. C. Tate, of Pickens county, for the democratic nomination, and express the conviction that with him as our standard bearer success is assured."

On local politics, the resolutions go on to say: "While we recognize, under the rotation system, which has grown into a custom in our senatorial district, that it is Cherokee county's time to name our senator, and while we will support any man the democrats of that county may agree upon, still we express a preference for Captain J. M. McAfee, and hope he will be put forward by our sister county in the coming race. He left our county when but a mere boy to fight our country's battles, and at the close of the war he went out from our county to fight the fiercer battles of life. As he made a gallant soldier, so he has made a worthy citizen, and deserves recognition from the county of his adoption that he has labored so faithfully to build up and develop."

The resolutions conclude with the statement: "We will support no man for representative who is not in full accord with the democratic party in this time of our country's peril."

After the adoption of this platform, Dr. John Hockenhull was elected chairman of the democratic executive committee for the county, with a full corps of committeemen from each militia district.

Delegates to the state convention were elected as follows: A. J. Julian, W. S. Davenport, George L. Bell and Dr. E. M. Bacon. They go uninstructed, but each personally strongly prefers Hill to Cleveland as between those two.

Pulaski Anti-Cleveland.

Hawkinsville, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The democratic county convention met here yesterday, every district in Pulaski county being represented except one. The meeting was called to order by G. W. Jordan, Jr., chairman of the county executive committee. Captain R. W. Anderson was elected chairman of the convention and Messrs. J. F. Sparrow and Captain C. R. Warren secretaries.

Colonel C. T. Lathrop, Colonel G. W. Jordan, G. O. Baskin C. R. Warren, Y. H. Morgan, T. D. Walker, A. F. Fountain, F. R. Collier, J. B McDuffie, G. W. Jordan, Jr., were elected delegates to the May convention. They go uninstructed and will vote as a unit. Colonel Lathrop, who heads the delegation has been voting the democratic ticket for more than fifty years. The majority of the delegation is anti-Cleveland.

The following were chosen delegates to the gubernatorial convention: Messrs. R. W. Anderson, C. R. Warren, R. G. Fulgham, J. J. Kinchen, H. M. Harrell, Jarrett Green, J. L. Overby, W. A. Horne, G. E. Chatman, D. H. Hendley, B. E. Barksdale and W. A. Horne. Governor Northen was endorsed and the delegates were instructed to vote for him and the other statehouse officials and for Hon. Clifford Anderson for attorney general. The convention elected a new executive committee, and appointed J. L. Anderson a member of the executive committee for the third district in the place of J. D. Stetson, resigned. The third party has about gone where the woodbine twineth.

Henry One and One.

Hampton, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—At a mass meeting of the democrats at McDonough yesterday a new democratic executive committee was elected, with members as follows: R. P. Minter, Robert C. Brown, G. W. Bryan, J. B. Clark, S. R. Brown, Jasper Green, M. J. Turner, G. F. Thrasher, M. V. Sewell, W. H. Crumbley, W. W. Ward, John D. Brown and J. W. Carmichael.

A number of third partyites withdrew from the courthouse when they were told that they could not affiliate in a democratic meeting. They have a large following in this county, and will hold a meeting at McDonough on the 17th.

The meeting elected delegates to the state convention on the 18th. They are W. A. Simpson, John D. Rowen, Nat R. Beadles, H. C. Turner, J. A. Fouche, G. G. Weems, C. D. McDonald and W. W. Duffee.

Henry may be put down as one for Cleveland and one for Hill.

Crawford Against Cleveland.

Knoxville, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Crawford county met today in democratic mass meeting. There was an unusually large attendance, in fact the entire intelligence of the county was out.

The Cleveland faction made a strong and determined effort to send Cleveland delegates, but it was no go. They then tried to pass a resolution declaring that he was the choice of the county democracy, but it was promptly voted down. The delegates were sent uninstructed. The sentiment was for Hill or a western man.

The third party is an important factor here, but they have no hope for success. They have called a meeting for May 28th. They seem determined to take independant action. The county is for Northen and Crisp.

Lowndes for Cleveland.

Valdosta, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Lowndes county's democrats met today at the courthouse. There was a good crowd present. Captain H. G. Turner, democratic candidate for congress, delivered one of the grandest speeches ever listened to in Lowndes county. He spoke one hour and fifty minutes on true democracy and the uplifting of the south, showing also the defects of the Ocala platform.

After [the] speaking a lively time was had electing delegates for the Atlanta convention, and the following were elected: Colonel W. S. West, Mr. B. P. Jones, R. I. Hinly, C. R. Pendleton. The delegates are personally for Cleveland.

Jones Is Divided.

Clinton, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee met here yesterday. Colonel Richard Johnson was elected chairman of the committee. Senator Johnson and Colonel Bartlett, of Macon, delivered fine democratic speeches. Those appointed to attend the state democratic convention on May 18th are: A. H. S. McKay, R. T. Ross, O. C. Gibson, Green Roberts, C. M. Farrar, R. C. Lester, J. A. Adams, R. J. Smith, J. R. Van Buren, W. T. Morton. They are divided in sentiment.

Bartow Divides.

Cartersville, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Bartow county sends its delegation to the state convention, of May 18th, divided equally between Hill and Cleveland. The meeting passed off harmoniously, and a disposition was manifested to submit personal preferences to party success. The meeting favored, above all things, the nomination of a man who could be elected.

Democracy Triumphant.

Carrollton, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Hon. G. W. Harper, democrat, and Professor I. H. P. Beck, third party man, met in joint discussion here today. Harper gave Beck a severe whipping and third partyism a black eye.

GIVES UP THE FIGHT.

The Leader of the Cleveland Forces in South Carolina

ACKNOWLEDGES IT WAS A DEFEAT.

There Can Be No Question That the State is Against Cleveland.

THE SAME SITUATION IN VIRGINIA.

News of That Kind Comes from All Points—National Politics in Other States.

Charleston, S. C., May 4.—(Special.)—Mr. J. C. Hemphill, the manager of the anti-Tillman boom in South Carolina, has capitulated. He gives up the fight and admits openly in conversation, though he has not gone so far as to announce in his paper, The News and Courier, that the Tillman sentiment has swept the state and that it will control both conventions. He concedes the result of the convention to nominate delegates to Chicago, and now has abandoned his fondest hopes of sending a Cleveland delegation from South Carolina.

He has also become satisfied that Tillman will be renominated and makes no bones of saying so to his friends. Indeed, he has so informed his friends in Washington, who have been in communication with him.

From now on the fight in this state will be tame and insipid. Only two weeks ago Editor Hemphill, while in New York, promised the state absolutely for Cleveland, and in extensive interviews throughout the country announced that South Carolina would certainly send a Cleveland delegation to Chicago. He now takes cold water, but will accept the situation. Indeed, there is nothing else left for him to do.

AND IN VIRGINIA.

The Sentiment Is Strong Against Cleveland in the Old Dominion.

Richmond, Va., May 4.—(Special.)—The Dispatch will print a table tomorrow showing how the delegates already elected to the state democratic convention, which meets here on the 19th instant, stand with reference to the presidential preferences. This is made up from reports of the county meetings, private advices from trustworthy sources and specials received from various sections of the state tonight. Exactly fifty counties and eight cities and towns have been heard from. These give 264 for Cleveland, 359 anti-Cleveland, and most of them are inclined to Hill, and 138 unknown.

Only seven counties have in[illegible] ex-President Cleveland.

The delegates elected today are not included in the table, but they do not alter the proportions.

The convention will be composed of 1,600 members, and from present indications will send an uninstructed delegation to Chicago.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS.

They Meet and Select Their Delegates to the Chicago Convention.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 4.—(Special.)—Wisconsin directs its delegates to the democratic national convention to vote as a unit and "desires" them to use all honorable means to nominate Cleveland. The convention here today was a perfunctory affair, and was held in Pabst opera house, which presented a brilliant scene.

Business went through on schedule time. Senator Vilas was chosen chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Prior to the assembling of the committee the delegates met by districts and chose district delegates and alternates to the national convention. On reassembling, the platform was read and adopted. It declares against free silver coinage, directs the delegates to vote as a unit and "desires" them to use all honorable means to nominate Cleveland.

The delegates at large are Senator Vilas, E. C. Wall, chairman of the state central committee; General E. S. Bragg and John A. Knight, of Ashland. Gustave Wollaeger was named to head the list of democratic presidential electors. The committee wound up with a strong speech from General Bragg.

OTHER CONVENTIONS.

Roanoke Virginia, May 4.—Virginia republicans will meet tomorrow. Mahone wants an uninstructed delegation, but the office holders want Harrison endorsed.

Stockton, California, May 4.—Republicans today elected E. F. Spence, M. H. DeYoung, Senator Felton and N. H. Rideout delegates at large. The platform endorses Harrison, but does not instruct for him.

Springfield, Illinois, May 4.—Republican convention temporarily organized today. Both Harrison and Blaine were cheered, Blaine getting greater part of enthusiasm. When Blaine's name was mentioned hats, coats and umbrellas were thrown into the air as delegates yelled repeatedly, "What is the matter with Blaine?" When the chairman predicted that the candidate nominated at Minneapolis would be elected there were loud cries, "And his name is Blaine, Blaine, Blaine." "It is so written in the book of fate," said the chairman, continuing his speech, "but the delegates interpreted this as meaning an endorsement of their suggestion of Blaine's nomination, and again Blaine was loudly cheered.

Grand Fork, N. D., May 4.—North Dakota state republican convention elected the following delegates to the national convention: Thomas T. McHugh, John A. Percival, W. H. Robinson, Gerald Pierce. The resolutions describe President Harrison as the godfather of the commonwealth and warmly commend his administration.

Hartford, Conn., May 4.—Senator Hawley was permanent chairman at republican convention today. Delegates at large are Morgan G. Bulkeley, James P. Platt, Timothy E. Hopkins, L. A. Cook. The convention endorsed Harrison's administration but there were no instructions.

Frederick, Md., May 4.—Delegates at large to Minneapolis are James A. Gary, Louis E. McComas, Alexander Shaw and Thomas S. Hodson. Delegates were instructed to vote for Harrison. The following is the financial plank: "We believe silver, equally with gold, to be the money of the people, and in behalf of the farmers, laborers and mechanics of the nation for whom the national party has always labored, we demand the passage of such laws as will provide for the free and unlimited coinage of the silver product of the mines of the United States as soon as the same can be done without injury to the business interests of the nation."

Anarchists Indicted.

London, May 4.—The grand jury today returned a true bill against Charles Wilfred Mowbray, publisher, and John Nichol, editor of the anarchist paper, The Commonwealth, for soliciting and encouraging certain persons unknown to murder [illegible] other persons.

HON. SEAB WRIGHT.

His Eloquent Speech Delivered to the People of Gordon.

A FIELD DAY IN CALHOUN.

His Stirring Appeal for Unity—In the Democratic Party Is to Be Found the Hope of the People.

Calhoun, Ga., May 3.—(Special.)—The handsome courtroom of the Gordon county courthouse was packed yesterday by sturdy farmers, alliancemen, democrats and all to hear a speech from Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Rome.

The Hon. Seaborn Wright's Speech.

Rev. M. A. Matthews introduced Hon. Seaborn Wright as the orator of the day. Mr. Wright began by saying that he was not present at this meeting as a candidate. He was here by invitation to talk democracy. Let it be understood that I am not a Bourbon democrat, neither am I a conservative democrat. I am a progressive democrat. I stand for the spirit of democracy which reaches out its hand in help to the people who need it. I am not here to abuse any one. I do not believe in crimination. I am willing for every man to have his opinions and I certainly have mine. I hide neither my light nor my darkness, as you may call it. I stand today where I stood a year ago—for plain, simple democratic relief for all the people of this country. This agitation now sweeping over the state began in an organization which by its own proscriptions alienated a large number of men of other callings and professions from them. And out of that has come their opposition to this farmers' organization, and the difference is widening and the trouble is growing. And yet the burdens of the farmers are the burdens of all men. Analyze these differences and at last we all stand on the same platform. We all want relief. (Applause.)

"This prejudice between the town and country is the work of bob-tailed politicians, office seekers on both sides, and if their work is not stopped, if the people of the country and of the towns do not come back together, there will be a return of the infamous rule of the republican party."

Mr. Wright then launched into a discussion of the money question, and in a lucid manner traced the history of national banks, and the evil work and hard burdens these banks inflict on the people. "These banks and the bonds of the government are the creations of the republican party and are today defended and maintained by that party. Nearly one-half of the currency of this country is in national bank notes, and the great bulk of these notes are issued by the monetary centers of the north and east. I don't blame the farmer for kicking and kicking hard against this system of finance. But the merchants of the south are in a bad fix, and we are all interested in the repeal of this infamous system, and I tell you that when it is repealed it will be by the democratic party." (Applause.)

Said Mr. Wright: "I stand by the democratic party because I see in it the hope of the tax-burdened masses of the country. When there is an honest financial system in this country, it will be when we return to the sterling and rugged honesty of Andrew Jackson. There is no difference between the farmer and the merchant and the mechanic and the railroader in settling this vital question."

Taking up the tariff question, Mr. Wright said that it was because its tax did not appear in glaring light that the people did not understand how burdensome the tariff was upon them. "Without knowing it, the poor farmer pays tribute to the millionaire; and let me emphasize this fact: That, if there is one thing to which the democratic party is absolutely and loyally pledged, it is to wipe out this war tariff, and lift from the pocketbooks of the people [illegible] tax. And then there is need of a graduated income tax. Justice and right demand such a tax. Why, 1 per cent of this country holds the wealth of the country; and this frightful condition of affairs is the result of republican legislation. Why, under that legislation the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer. The time for political buffoonery has passed; the time for sober, earnest argument is upon us, and upon all these great questions the people of the south must not be ripped up. And let us pause for a moment to consider the question of governmental control of railroads—not governmental ownership of railroads. We stop at that. Why, brother farmer, I recall how it was a lawyer, Colonel Rankin, who introduced the first bill in the Georgia legislature to tax these railroads. That bill was defeated; but, for thirteen years, that fight was kept up, and, at last, a similar bill, by W. C. Glenn, was passed, and the supreme court has put its seal upon it, and now these great corporations will have to pay their quota to the support of the government, just as does Bill Jones, who has no motive power stronger than a little speckled steer. Why, the merchants of the towns are far more interested in governmental control of the railroads than are the farmers. These merchants want a power behind them to prevent these great corporations from exacting onerous, burdensome and exorbitant freight charges for the transportation of their merchandise."

Mr. Wright then spoke with fervid eloquence of the oneness of the southern people, of their homogeneity, and of their kinship.

Mr. Wright closed his remarkably eloquent speech, a speech that won rapturous applause all through its delivery, with the following Peroration.

"And now, my brothers, why should there be division among us? We are a peculiar people. We are of one blood and one great family. Nowhere on this earth do there exist such ties as those which bind southerner to southerner. The burdens that fall upon the farmer press with equal weight upon the merchant, the lawyer, the day laborer, the schoolmaster, the mechanic, the railroader and every class of men. None are exempt. When the cry for relief goes forth from the fields it is taken up by the people who dwell in the towns and its volume is increased by every voice of sympathy from every citizen of the south. We cannot afford to separate our interests or our votes. Many of you today can recall with a shudder the dark and troublous times of reconstruction. You know what oppression was upon the south in that black era. You remember the fear of your wives and daughters in the days when an unrighteous power seemed bent on wrecking the fair women of the south and blighting every home with its lustful presence. And now shall we see neighbor arrayed against neighbor and friend forsaking friend and striking hands with an alien and destructive ally. I injure you to stand by the faith of our fathers—to fight with loyal reverence for the principles they fought for and to keep sacred the trust and legacy they left to us. Let us preserve intact our oneness. Let us maintain the glorious record which is best written in the words: 'A solid south.' Here under these blue skies anarchy and communism have found no shelter or abiding place. Shall we blacken these skies by giving to this foreign element of destruction and rapine recognition and opportunity to grow and spread and plant its red flag of war on all that is holy and pure and good?"

Mr. Neel Speaks.

There were vigorous calls for Mr. Will J. Neel, of Rome, who was in the courtroom. Mr. Neel responded in a short but ringing speech, in which he exposed the tricks of the third party and the enormous burden of taxation the twelfth plank of that party's platform would impose upon the southern people. Mr. Neel's speech was a stirring one and brought forth round after round of applause.

It was the universal opinion after the convention, which was a grand democratic rally, had adjourned, that Mr. Wright's speech was a masterly effort and that it will do great good.

JOHN LOCKE MARTIN.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.

Underwood, the Slayer of Alex Sayre, Sick in Jail.

E. A. Underwood, with a life sentence over his head, is dangerously ill at the Fulton county jail.

Death may call him to account before a higher tribunal before he is made to don the stripes as a punishment for his crime.

Upstairs, in the room adjoining that in which Steve Ryan has spent the last six months, the wretched man lies, tossing feverishly about on a prison cot. Bending over him anxiously is the weak, consumptive-looking wife, who has been faithful to him throughout.

His face is pale, his eyes sunken and wild looking. He is desperately ill, suffering from a relapse of a case of pneumonia, from which he has been ailing for nearly a month. It was thought that he had about recovered from it. Sunday he was up, walking around, and appeared in better spirits than usual.

He expressed a desire to be carried to the convict camp at once, saying that he believed the free air and sunshine and light labor would help him wonderfully.

Tuesday night Underwood became rapidly worse. His old symptoms returned more acutely than ever, and Dr. Griffin was summoned.

He continued to grow worse until yesterday morning, and all day yesterday was suffering greatly.

Early in the day Mrs. Underwood was sent for, and came quickly, remaining by her husband's side all day yesterday and all through last night.

The chances are that Underwood will recover, but he may not do so.

He is a man of powerful constitution, and has rarely ever been sick before. Dr. Eli Griffin, the county physician, is doing all he can for the suffering man.

SHE RECEIVED $3000.

Judge Pat Owens's Widow Gets Money from the Order of the Golden Chain.

The widow of Judge Pat Owens was made very happy yesterday by the receipt of the very neat sum of $3,000.

This sum was in payment of a policy held by Judge Owens in the Order of the Golden Chain, of which he was a member.

Another family was made to rejoice because of the benevolent purposes of this order.

There is a disability clause in the constitution of this order which provides for the payment to any member who may become permanently disabled one-half of the face of the policy held.

Mr. Young M. Irwin has been a member of this order for eight or nine years. Two years ago he became paralyzed, since which time he has been unable to do any work. A committee of physicians, consisting of Drs. P. E. Murray, chairman, J. M. Gaston and C. C. Green, were appointed to examine into his condition and they reported him permanently disabled.

Yesterday Treasurer E. W. Martin paid over to Mr. Irwin the sum of $1,500.

This order is composed of 500 of the best citizens of the city.

LIVELY TIMES IN REAL ESTATE.

Some Very Interesting Sales Are Booked for the Near Future.

Things are getting livelier in real estate matters as the days grow longer and the spring time sun shines brighter.

The market continues brisk and barbecues and big auction sales are no rare commodities.

Messrs. Sam'l W. Goode & Co. will sell fifty lots at "Bosque Bonita," a "beautiful woods," near Gordon street on the Sandtown road, next Tuesday, May 10th. The general public is invited to be there and enjoy a grand old-fashioned barbecue and listen to the sweet music of the Zouave band, as well as to buy land at great chances.

The same firm offers to sell thirty lots in Edgewood, near Senator Colquitt's, next Thursday.

On Saturday they will sell fifty lots on the Western and Atlantic railroad.

All of the Atlanta real estate agents are kept busy as bees these bright May days, for the dirt of Atlanta is growing more and more in demand day after day.

THE CHICKAMAUGUA CASE.

It Comes Up in the United States Court and Is Virtually Settled.

An important case was decided yesterday in the United States circuit court.

It was William F. Conner and John Roarke against the government in what has become known as the Chickamauga land case.

There was a tract of land at Chickamauga that the government wanted for a park. The owner knew it and the price went up accordingly.

Three appraisers were appointed who assessed the land at $17.60 per acre.

The owners were not satisfied with this and brought it into court.

The court decided yesterday that that was all the land was worth.

The amount of land involved in this case was 163 acres, but there are other cases of the same kind yet to come. This virtually decides the whole matter.

The Hebrew Society.

The Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent Society, of this city, is accomplishing a wonderful amount of good. The object of this society is to make people self-sustaining; to help those in need, and to care for the sick and despondent. Within the last three months $600 have been paid out of the treasury for charitable purposes. The society's success is largely due to Mrs. J. T. Eichberg, who has been president for the past seventeen years. Yesterday was the twenty-second anniversary of the society, and in the afternoon the ladies interested in the cause met in the vestry room of the synagogue to elect officers for the following year. The election resulted as follows: Mrs. J. T. Eichberg, president; Mrs. J. L. Cohen, vice president; Mrs. J. Haas, treasurer, and Mrs. D. Liebermuth, secretary. The board of directors is composed of: Mrs. Jake Selig, Mrs. L. Lieberman, Mrs. J. Haas, Mrs. A. Rosenfeld and Mrs. D. Klein.

Economy.

Aside from their excellence there is economy in buying

Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts,

as they are the most natural flavors made, and in strength, quality and quantity, there are no Flavoring Extracts that can compare with them. It is not economy to buy the Flavoring Extracts in the market because they are sold at a low price. Cheapness is an indication of inferiority. Try Dr. Price's Extract of Vanilla or Lemon, and you will never use any other.

INTEREST UNPAID.

The Central Trust Company Wants the Atlanta and Florida Sold.

NO FUNDS FOR MAY COUPONS.

Judge Speer's Court Is Full of Railroad Litigation—General Macon Gossip.

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Railroads furnish the sensations of the day.

This morning Judge Henry B. Tompkins, of Atlanta, filed a bill in the United States court in behalf of the Central Trust Company, of New York, against the Atlanta and Florida railroad et al.

The Central Trust Company of New York is the trustee for the bondholders of the Atlanta and Florida, and the bill which is somewhat voluminous alleges that on May 1st of the current year the defendant company defaulted for the amount of interest on outstanding bonds for the amount of $25,200 due on that day. The bonds are secured by a mortgage to the Central Trust Company amounting to $840,000.

The bill further alleges that the railroad has defaulted on taxes due to the state and has otherwise notated the contract which gives the trustees the right to foreclose the mortgage.

The prayer is that the bill be consolidated with the other bill under which Mr. R. H. Plant was appointed receiver and which is now pending in the United States court here. The bill also asks for a foreclosure of the mortgage and the sale of the road at once for the benefit of the creditors.

A Rule To Be Answered.

A few days ago The Constitution gave the full particulars of the decision in the case of Jennie Pierce against the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad which has caused considerable local and state interest.

This morning the case took another turn and the East Tennessee, their tracklayers and officials in Macon were called upon to show cause why they should not be attached for contempt of the order issued on Monday.

It appears that the East Tennessee has complied with the order of the court, but not to the fullest extent. The attorneys for the plaintiff claim that part of the sidetrack from the use of which the road was enjoined, is still in use. The case will be heard on Saturday in the United States court.

In the Highway Robbery Business.

Pink McMillan, one of the best known toughs of the town, was arrested last night for highway robbery and it is possible that another more serious charge may be brought against him.

McMillan, who is a young white man, has already served a term on the chaingang and this time he may take another turn with the shackels.

The victim of his imitation of Rube Burrows was a negro whom he met on the road about 11 o'clock last night and at the point of a pistol was obliged to give up what money he had about him. McMillan will be tried tomorrow in the recorder's court.

An Able Speech.

The case of John Singleton, a negro who was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., some months ago by a Jacksonville detective, has created considerable interest in the state and especially in Macon, where Singleton was known as a somewhat notorious character. Attorney John R. Cooper, of Macon, is defending Singleton on his trial in Henry county and The Weekly has this to say about him:

"Colonel John R. Cooper, a young attorney, of Macon, made the most noted speech of this term of the court, catching the large audience by his eloquent oratory. He made an able defense for John Singleton, in the Brown robbery case. Colonel J. F. Wall assisted Colonel Cooper in the case, and he also made a fine speech."

A Lecture on Mission Work.

Miss Emory, one of the most noted women in the United States as a church and mission lecturer, will visit Macon tomorrow. She is a member of the board of missions of New York city, and visits Macon on the invitation of a number of the congregation of Christ church. She will lecture in the schoolhouse at Christ church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Lieutenant Wood Exonerated.

A local sensation was caused some time ago by the presentment of the grand jury in which the name of Lieutenant Charles N. Wood, of the Macon police force appeared in no flattering connection. He was accused of gambling and ignorance of his duty. In an investigation of the cases against Lieutenant Wood the court failed to find evidence to convict, and the cases were dismissed. Last night the city council passed resolutions exonerating Lieutenant Wood from all blame.

Dropped in to See His Friends.

Hon. W. H. Fleming, of Augusta, a prominent candidate for the speakership, was in the city yesterday. Bill Fleming has any number of staunch admirers and supporters in Macon.

A BID FOR FILTERS

For the New Waterworks Received by the Water Board.

The water board met in regular session yesterday morning, and attended to the regular run of business.

The suggestion for doing away with the water meters, and giving the people free water was the topic of a great deal of discussion, but no action was taken.

Mayor Hemphill made a valuable suggestion, which no doubt will receive the consideration of the board. He advocated the repairing of the water meters and the keeping of them in thorough repair at the expense of the city. No definite action was taken upon the meter question. The whole matter was referred to the waterworks committee of the council and to the water board to be acted on at a joint meeting.

A bid from the New York Filter Company for the filters for the new waterworks was received and opened. The bid was $50,400 for suplying all the filters. It was referred to a special committee, and a report upon it will be received at the next meeting of the water board.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., will give one of his inimitable lectures on next Monday evening in the Young Men's Christian Association hall. Mr. Dixon's subject will be "Backbone." As this reverend gentleman is known as an orator of eloquence, wit and humor, he will no doubt be greeted by a large audience at his appearance on Monday evening.

Go to the Barbecue,

GENERAL LEWIS PAID IT.

He Got Tired of Running Things Without Water, and Paid Uncle Sam's Water Bill.

For twenty-four hours the attaches of Uncle Ben Harrison's administration in Atlanta went with unwashed hands and dry throats, all because Uncle Sam's water bill was not as promptly paid as it should be.

Yesterday's Constitution told of how Atlanta's city officials had summarily shut off the water supply of the custom house because a bill for last month's water was not paid.

The customary way of collecting Uncle Sam's water bill is to present it at the end of every month and receive a check on the subtreasury of the United States in New York for the amount.

This was done in the case of the April water bill and the check went to the subtreasury in New York for collection. But because the full official title of Mr. George Terry was not endorsed on the back of it it was not paid.

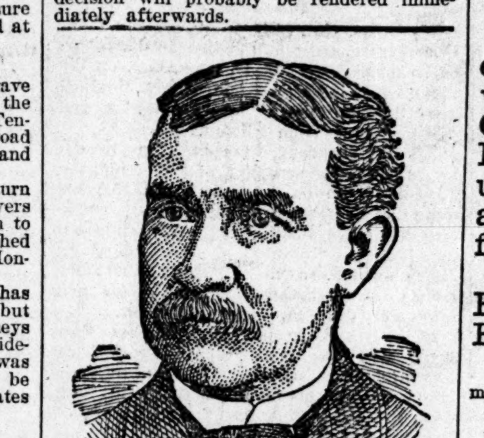

The water bill was placed in the hands of Tax Collector Maddox for collection and he called on the officials of the custom house to receive payment. They all refused to advance the money, and Mr. Maddox thought that if they were not willing to advance money for the government for their own use, that he was not, so it came to pass that upon that same afternoon the water supply of the custom house was shut off.

For twenty-four hours the officials stood and Postmaster Lewis decided that things were getting too dry, and he drew on his own bank account for the amount, $34.10, and lent Uncle Sam the money.

The water was turned on again and the clerks performed their facial ablutions at once.

Waiting on General Thomas.

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—It is probable that a decision will be rendered in the case against the Richmond and Danville for contempt tomorrow or the following day. Under the order of the court, the affidavit of General Sam Thomas as to those shares held by the Central Trust Company must be filed tomorrow. And a decision will probably be rendered immediately afterwards.

Mr. Warren D. Wentz of Geneva, N. Y.,

Tells of His Fearful Sufferings After Gastric Fever and His Cure by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

All who know Mr. W. D. Wentz give him the best of recommendations for honesty and integrity. For many years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the harness maker and member of the Geneva Board of Health. He says:

"I was taken sick last October with gastric fever and my chance for recovery was considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks the fever slowly left me, but I could not eat the simplest food without terrible distress: It seemed that I had recovered from the fever to

Die of Starvation

I took pepsin compounds, bismuth, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician confessed that his skill was about exhausted and he did not know what else to try. Everything I took seemed like pouring melted lead into my stomach. I happened to think I had part of a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla that had been in the house for two or three years, that I found had benefited me previously for dyspepsia. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing me, even to which I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words enough to permit me to express the praise I would like to give to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. WENTZ, 18½ Castle St., Geneva, N. Y.

A Good Voucher

"I have known Mr. Warren D. Wentz for many years and can vouch for him as a man of veracity and one well known about here. I have sold him several bottles of

during the past few months." M. H. PARTRIDGE, Druggist, Geneva, N. Y.

A Tonic and A Pleasure:

That's the happy combination found in

Hires' Root Beer

You drink it for pleasure, and get physical benefit. A wholesome, refreshing, appetizing, thirst quenching drink.

One package makes five gallons.

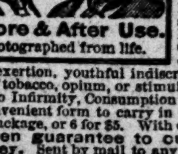

Don't be deceived if a dealer, for the sake of larger profit, tells you some other kind is "just as good"—'tis false. No imitation is as good as the genuine HIRES'.

TUTT'S Tiny Liver Pills

stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an anti-bilious medicine. In malarial districts their virtues are widely recognized as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. Price, 25c. Office, 39 Park Place, N. Y.

USE TUTT'S HAIR DYE; a perfect imitation of nature; impossible to detect it. Price, $1 per box.

MANHOOD RESTORED.

6-1y-n r m

We are in it. 3 times a Day and ½ a Day Monday.

Soap is used every day in washing dishes, cleaning floors, scrubbing paint, &c., and the solid ½ day's wash on Monday caps the climax. For all these uses is BETTER than ANY Soap, does the cleaning quicker, easier and more thoroughly, and is cheaper as well. Better work at ½ the cost of any other washing powder puts all other washing powders beyond discussion or notice.

Your grocer will sell you a wholesale package (4 pounds) for 25 cents.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—Ordinary's Office, April 6, 1892.—Teresa A. Kenney, administratrix of M. E. Kenney, represents she has fully discharged the duties of said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned, to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in July next, why said administratrix should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary.
apr-7-3m. thur.

In the United States circuit court for the southern division of the northern district of Alabama, George S. Coe, substituted trustee, vs. the East and West Railroad Company of Alabama, et al.

In obedience to the decretal order of said court in the above stated case, rendered by the Honorable Don A. Pardee, United States circuit judge, and entered of record on the [illegible] day of March, 1892, in term time, in said court, in the city of Birmingham, Ala., notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against the said East and West Railroad Company of Alabama that I will, as special master of said court in this behalf, attend in the city of New York, N. Y., in room 24, No. 2 William street, the law office of Robert Ludlow Fowler, Esq., on the 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22d and 23d days of April, 1892, from 10 o'clock a. m. to 4 o'clock p. m. of each day, for the purpose of executing said decretal order and receiving proof of and listing all such claims and reporting the same to the court.

Notice is further given that, for the purpose aforesaid, I will attend in the city of Atlanta, Ga., on the 3d and 4th days of May, 1892, during business hours, at the Kimball house; at Cartersville, Ga., on the 5th and 6th days of May, 1892, in the office of the receiver of said railroad company; at Cedartown, Ga., on the 7th day of May, 1892, at the office of Ivy Thompson, Esq., and at Birmingham, Ala., from the 9th day of May to the 1st day of June, 1892, daily (Sundays excepted), at the office of the undersigned special master, No. 2022 1-2 First avenue.

The word "claims," as used in this notice, includes receiver's certificates, first consolidated mortgage bonds, judgment and unsecured claims.

And all persons holding claims as aforesaid are further notified, that, unless they present and prove the same before me at one of the times and places above mentioned, they will, by the terms of the decree of the court, be forever barred from any participation in the proceeds of the sale of the property of said East and West Railroad Company of Alabama, hereafter to be made.

Witness my official signature, at Birmingham, Ala., this 8th day of March, 1892.

RAILROAD RETURNS

Show an Alarming Decrease of Value This Year

FROM TEN TO FORTY PER CENT.

Is This a Prophecy of a General Decrease in Tax Returns? —The Comptroller General Not Satisfied.

The first tax returns of the year show a heavy decrease.

The first returns of the year are those which the railroads make to the comptroller general, and they are always looked forward to with a great deal of interest, for it has been observed that, whether the railroad returns go up or down, the returns of other property later in the year are pretty sure to follow suit. There seems to be a kind of sympathy between railroads and other property, and this year railroad returns reflect the general depression.

Comptroller General Wright has received the returns of several railroad companies, and nearly all of them show a decrease. None of the larger roads but the Georgia Southern and Florida have sent in returns. That line, with something over one hundred and seventy miles of track within the state, returns its property at a decrease of $155,556 in a total valuation of $1,653,847, or in round numbers a little less than 10 per cent. The Georgia Midland and Gulf road's return shows a decrease of $121,875 in a total of $749,750, or a decrease of 16 per cent, and the Atlanta and Florida caps the climax with a decrease of $259,000 in a total valuation of $596,374. Its hundred miles of track, with rolling stock, are returned this year at $337,374. This is a decrease of 43 per cent in one year!

The comptroller general will not accept these returns. He will send them back to the railroad officials, with objections noted on the documents. There is no doubt that this is a hard year with the railroads, but the comptroller does not think the facts justify such returns as the above.

In this connection it is interesting to observe the large increase in the gross receipts of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

The lessees are required to pay an income tax, and in order that the amount may be fixed they are required by law to make returns to the comptroller general, showing their gross receipts expenses and net earnings. The lessees have made two returns, the one just rendered for the year ending April 1, 1892, and one for the previous year. These reports show no net earnings, for the reason that very large sums have been expended in putting the road in fine shape and equipping it with high class rolling stock. The fine equipment appears to have told on the business, for this year the gross receipts are $1,557,408, as against $1,380,950 for eleven months of 1889; and $1,359,669 for the whole year ending May 1, 1889.

Some idea of the expense incurred in putting the road in condition for heavy business may be had from these items of expense on the report for the past year:

"Rails, $97,049; cars and engines, $281,000; repairing roadway, $72,000; new crossties, $67,000; bridges, $43,000."

This heavy outlay leaves no net income to pay tax on, but this ratio of expense will not be kept up and it is expected that the Western and Atlantic railroad will soon begin to show handsome net earnings. Its gross earnings justify the prediction.

The Governor's Return.

Governor Northen and State School Commissioner Bradwell returned to the city yesterday from Liberty county. Their visit to Hinesville was a delightful one, and the governor made a telling speech in the interest of education, with side lights on the third party. He was met by the Liberty Independent Troop and the confederate veterans, about one hundred strong. He will go with Commissioner Bradwell to Bainbridge next Saturday week. Colonel Bradwell will go to Madison the coming Saturday to attend a teachers' institute.

Auditor Peeples at Work Today.

Mr. Henry Peeples, auditor in the Ryan case, will begin a hearing at his room in the capitol at 10 o'clock this morning. The business to be gone through is very voluminous and tedious, and may occupy several months. Between sixty and eighty claim cases for goods are to be considered.

Brimful of confidence in it—the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's a faith that means business, too—it's backed up by money. This is what they offer: $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure. They mean it. They're willing to take the risk—they know their medicine. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic Catarrh in the Head. It's doing it every day, where everything else has failed. No matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, you can be cured. You're sure of that—or of $500. You can't have both, but you'll have one or the other.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these likely to be present at once.

Atlanta People and Cumberland Island.

Why go to Old Point Comfort or to Newport, when Cumberland Island is in your own state in a day's ride, has a finer beach and far more attractions—game, fish, home society, business friends, less cost and the like? Think of these things, and of the proposition of the High Point Cumberland Island Co., as follows: It proposes to form a company with $125,000 capital stock in shares of $100 each, no money to be paid until 650 shares are subscribed; shares to be paid $25 cash after $65,000 is subscribed, $25 in thirty, $25 in sixty and $25 in ninety days; to give every subscriber who takes two shares a lot 50x150 feet, near the hotel; to guarantee that the money you pay in as above shall be applied to build- apl2-3m SAM'L W. THE CONDUCTORS' PICNIC.

The Annual Picnic of the Order of Railway Conductors at Maddox's Park.

The Order of Railway Conductors will give their annual picnic at Maddox park, on Thursday, May 5th.

Maddox park is a beautiful grove situated on the Atlanta and Florida railroad, only a short distance from Atlanta, and has several magnificent springs of pure water.

The conductors will give in addition to the regular picnic an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue. Ample accommodation will be provided for all who wish to attend and at the small price of tickets, 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children and servants, it is expected that a large crowd will avail themselves of this opportunity to take a day of recreation.

The pavilion is one of the largest and best in the state, and dancing will be one of the main features of the conductors' gala day. Music will be furnished by the Atlanta Military band.

The train will be run under the auspices of the conductors, which fact will insure perfect order on the train and grounds.

Special trains will leave the union depot, by special arrangement for this occasion, at 8 a. m., 10:20 a. m. and 1:30 p.m. Returning will arrive at the union depot at 1:20 and 6:30 p. m. Trains going and coming will stop at Peters street, McDaniel street and the Atlanta and Florida yards for passengers.

Notice.

We desire to say to persons wishing to place advertising in our "Want" column, that the price is made low purposely and the cash must accompany the order in every case.

THE CONSTITUTION.

LECTURE.

"Tongue and Temper." By Rev. O. F Filippo.

A rich and rare entertainment in First Baptist church, Thursday evening, May 5th.

This lecture promises a rich, racy and profitable entertainment. Things will be said to profit and amuse the young and old—married and single—belated sisters and old bachelors—quarrelsome courting couples—ill-natured church members—waspish wives and impatient husbands.

Married couples, happy in the domestic relations, will be present; while those given to family jars (and jaws) will stay away for fear of being hit by the lecturer; quarrelsome lovers, and all classes of sour and crabbed people will be known by their absence.

This lecture has been delivered in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Nashville, Florida and other cities and states, and always draws and pleases.

Admission, 25 cents.

ATLANTA, GA., May 5, 1892.

This is from the man who wrote the last two platforms of the national democratic party Henry Watterson.

[illegible]onths hence all democrats will see, plainly as is now seen by democrats who are advised of the true situation, that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland would be an act of suicide, and because of two simple, conclusive reasons:

First, he would lose the state of New York as surely and as disastrously as it was lost by Judge Folger, when a hundred thousand republicans stayed away from the polls and gave the state to Mr. Cleveland by nearly two hundred thousand majority.

And, second, with his proclaimed and extreme views upon silver coinage, we could not hope to gain votes in a single one of the republican states of the northwest, and would surely risk the loss of such states as West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina.

A Democratic Revival.

If the meetings in the thirty-six counties which acted last Tuesday demonstrated any one fact more than another, it was the fact that a sudden and enthusiastic revival of democracy has killed the third party in Georgia.

In these thirty-six counties the democrats turned out last Tuesday en masse. Not since the stirring events of reconstruction days have the rank and file of the party manifested such an intense interest in a campaign. The old democrats, and the young ones, too, are at the front, and they are determined to win.

The third party is dead in this state. In some counties it has not a single follower, and in others it is rapidly melting away. In Tuesday's meetings it only showed its head incidentally in one or two counties, and was promptly and decisively smashed.

Within the past few weeks the democratic orators who have occupied the stump from the mountains to the sea have done a good work. They have driven the third party into the woods, and the masses of the democracy are organizing for victory.

It is no more than we expected. The democrats of Georgia know how to differ, and discuss the issues of the day, without a division. They are always willing to submit to the decision of the majority of the party, and move forward in a solid phalanx, rolling up a solid vote on election day. They are not easily led astray after strange gods. They know that a united democracy saved us from utter destruction after the war, and they know that it is still our only hope—our only shield—while the menace of the force bill hangs over us.

It is gratifying to see the farmers so generally coming forward in the counties that have acted. They have been the backbone of the democracy in the past, and they are needed more than ever now. Their confidence in the grand old party of Jefferson is not misplaced, and it will cause those democrats who have suspected them of leaning towards the third party to revise their judgment, and welcome them to democratic councils and leadership.

Our sturdy farmers are back of this democratic revival. Always tried and true in the past, they will continue loyal and faithful to the end. The democracy owes its existence, its strength and its valuation to this element—the farmers, the toilers of the land. Its mission is to represent them, uphold their rights and secure the redress of their grievances. Let us bear all this in mind while the revival progresses, and there will be no excuse for breaking ranks to go into a third party!

Helping the Third Party.

The democrats in the hopelessly republican states can afford to surrender something to their sentiments, but the south is compelled, in the very nature of things to look carefully to the main chance. It is compelled to move along practical lines. There has been but one result of the Cleveland craze in the south thus far, and that is the growth of the third party movement. This, under the circumstances, was inevitable. The farmers of Georgia and of other southern states have been announcing for two years or more their purpose to demand financial relief, especially that form of relief which contemplates the repeal of republican legislation demonetizing silver. This demand has been endorsed by an overwhelming majority of the democratic party. In 1890 the democrats of more than twenty states declared in favor of the free coinage of silver. There seemed to be no objection on the part of southern democrats to the demand of the farmers for free coinage, and there were no symptoms of a third party in any part of the south.

But matters have changed since 1890. A number of worthy democrats appear to have totally mistaken the significance of the election of that year. They gave themselves over with immense enthusiasm to the Cleveland craze, ignoring the most important and far-reaching fact in Mr. Cleveland's career—his busy antagonism of the efforts of the people to bring about the remonetization of silver. Thus, when the alliance democrats of the south observed the preparations that were making to take up an anti-silver candidate, a great many of them concluded to listen more attentively to the third party arguments. Their attitude has been confirmed by the tremendous efforts of the Cleveland boomers to commit the party to an anti-free coinage programme and to inevitable defeat.

It is useless to ignore the part that the Cleveland craze has played in driving free coinage democrats into the third party. Democrats who believe in the success of the party cannot afford to close their eyes to the facts. The matter is too important. The third party would never have been heard of in the south but for the attempt to nominate a candidate opposed to free coinage.

A New Programme.

The tendency on the part of prominent democrats in Washington and elsewhere to drop Mr. Cleveland as a candidate is both timely and wise. If, as Mr. Watterson declares, the majority of the democratic leaders in Washington privately admit that the nomination of the ex-president would be fatal to democratic success, it is high time for them to call a halt to the Cleveland boom. Public men who are timid enough to permit themselves to be quoted in the public prints as favoring the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, while they declare in private that his nomination would prove disastrous to the party, are lending themselves to a very dangerous form of hypocrisy. They are trying to play a double game, and in so doing they are deliberately staking their own poor little interests aginst the great interests of the party.

It is stated by the newspaper correspondents that some of these public men are preparing to take the muzzle off their minds. The off-hand outline of the new programme is that Mr. Cleveland is to be dropped as a candidate and Chief Justice Melville Fuller substituted. It is said that Mr. Cleveland and a number of his friends are favorable to this plan, and that they have been arranging it for some time. The wishes and desires of the voters of the country seem to be left out of the programme by unanimous consent, but probably this doesn't matter much. We think the country will be comparatively safe if any of those affected with the Cleveland craze can be brought to the point of confessing in person or by proxy that the heavens will remain firm and steadfast if the ex-president is not nominated at Chicago.

In South Carolina.

A few days ago when the editor of The Charleston News and Courier was in New York, he whiled the happy hours away by assuring the reporters of the various newspapers of the metropolis that all the talk about opposition to Cleveland in the south emanated from a few journals which had neither following nor influence. This, at least, was the impression left on the minds of the reporters, and they were also given to understand that the editor's own state—South Carolina—was practically solid for Cleveland. This has also been practically the claim of The News and Courier. According to that newspaper the anti-Cleveland press in the south has not only been misrepresenting the attitude of the people in regard to the candidate, but in regard to the free coinage of silver.

We need go no further than its own state to fill The News and Courier with confusion. South Carolina has acted through its county primaries and conventions, and the result is anti-Cleveland delegations in every county except two. One county has not yet selected delegates to the state convention, but its action cannot affect the result. The people of South Carolina are opposed to the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, and an anti-Cleveland delegation will go to Chicago.

The result has shown that there is no Cleveland sentiment among the people of South Carolina. The movement in favor of his renomination developed no strength whatever. The democrats of the state have declared by their action that they prefer democratic success to the nomination of a candidate sure to lead the party to defeat. In short, The News and Courier has not been able to inoculate the democrats of South Carolina with what Mr. Watterson aptly calls the Cleveland craze. There, as in the other southern states, they are going in for the safety and success of the party, and they place this result above the claim of any candidate.

Chief Justice Fuller wouldn't have to shave off his mustache to become the democratic candidate, but he will have to write a letter and tell the wool-hat boys how he stands on the questions affecting the beautiful white metal.

In the midst of much politics, The Constitution is a newspaper. It was the only paper in Georgia to give a full report of the action of the counties in Georgia Tuesday.

The idea that the free coinage democrats of Georgia are for an anti-silver candidate reaches into the blue ether through and beyond the region of the preposterous.

The news from South Carolina ought to be interesting to The News and Courier.

Old "Uninstructed" seems to be as popular, so to speak, as any of the candidates.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A Venezuelan special to The New York Herald says: "Dictator Palacio's alleged threat to kill the twenty-three-year-old son of General Crespo as soon as the last named comes within a league of Caracas has reached the headquarters of the revolutionists and excited great indignation. General Crespo declares if his son is put to death Palacio will be burned at the stake in the plaza in front of the Casa Amarilla. The revolutionists will do all they can to prevent the dictator from carrying out his threat, but if he should kill young Crespo, Palacio may expect, if captured, to be cremated." Crespo is near Caracas, but will not attack until he is reinforced.

Miss Lucinda Q. Gore, of Lackharabad, India, is a school teacher. Not long ago she was standing at her blackboard, when, turning around, she saw in the doorway the glaring eyes of a tiger. With a woman's instinct she seized a broom and drove it in the tiger's face, brush foremost. One of the straws entered the tiger's eyes, and he drew back with a howl of pain to make a spring when she slammed the door in his face. The door was heavy, but the supports were frail. While the tiger banged the door with his head Miss Gore lowered the largest of the little fellows out of the window to alarm the neighborhood. When the brave little fellow was safely off Miss Gore took her broom and went back to defend the door, which the tiger was still assaulting. At length—and it seemed ages—there were shots, cheers and a terrible cry. Then the door opened; the crowd rushed in. Miss Gore did not then faint, nor afterward.

Perhaps an occasional lynching would improve the situation thus described by The New York Advertiser:

"Geologists have one explanation of the redness of New Jersey's soil; imaginative persons quite another. The death of the young woman of Red Bank, robbed and murdered by an unknown ruffian, adds one more to the long and terrible list of New Jersey murders unavenged. Connecticut's score is large and Long Island's is not to be despised, but with all its boasted justice our neighbor across the North river is easily the leader. The blood of innocent and unavenged victims cries out against the people whose folly or indifference tolerates such outrages."

A BREEZE FROM GEORGIA.

The Story of a Voter.

He was a poor, deserving man—
His chance in life was slim;
When Colonel Brown for office ran
He said he'd vote for him.

With Major Jones (who gave him five)
He made a contract, too;
Said he: "It is on cash we thrive;
I'll poll a vote for you."

To General Scott (who made it ten)
He said: "A man must live;
The country's needing just such men—
You'll get the vote I give."

Thus was a contract made with three,
But at the polls in town,
Great was the major's mystery
To see him vote for Brown!

Likewise the colonel, watching by,
Did greatly curse his lot,
To see the fellow, standing nigh,
Vote straight for General Scott!

And then the general swore by note,
And cursed his ancient bones,
To see the faithless fellow's vote
Go in for Major Jones!

Then Jones and Brown and Scott were heard
To swear both long and loud;
That humble man had kept his word
By voting for the crowd!

The Fort Valley Leader is a new paper, inside and out. Its general appearance is brighter than of old, and its make-up has wonderfully improved. Mr. Storey is giving Fort Valley the benefit of his long experience in the newspaper business. The town now has a paper of which it can well be proud.

No Time to Lose.

Messenger—A telegram for you, sir.

Summer Hotel Man—Great Scott! A party of twenty expected here at noon. John, put ten pounds of washing blue in the mineral spring, hang those fish I brought from the city on a line near the pond, and give the alligator a little nigger. Get a move on you now!

The saddest day of a man's life is when he has to pay the editor $5 for a political announcement after he has been defeated for the office. But kind-hearted editors generally spare him this sadness by demanding the cash in advance.

It is said that Editor Christopher, late of The Montezuma Record, will trim his sails for Texas. The democratic press in Southwest Georgia is bidding him a humorously pathetic farewell. Some of them say that he will take the third party in that section with him—in his valise.

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

Messrs. J. Y. Netherton and James Pope having refused to allow their names to be used as candidates for representative from Dooly county, this leaves Mr. J. D. Pate with the field all to himself. Dooly is entitled to two representatives, but one has announced as yet. The friends of Mr. S. W. Cerey have been insisting that he let them elect him, but he has not as yet given his consent. Others have been approached upon the subject, but have not as yet made up their minds to enter the race.

The Vienna Progress says the outlook now is that there will be no primaries held in Dooly this year, but that a "free for all" scrub race will be the result of the recent political excitement. If so there will be lively times in Dooly.

George Thornton, the public as well as private secretary of Webster county, writes to The Americus Times-Recorder that Messrs. Hudson and Sears, the delegates to the Atlanta convention, are Hill men in preference to Cleveland.

The Washington Chronicle says it is now generally understood that Hon. M. P. Reese will be made the democratic standard bearer in the senatorial campaign in that district.

The Clarkesville Advertiser nominates Colonel J. W. Robertson, of Habersham, as a candidate for congress in the ninth district. The Advertiser says that Colonel Robertson is not seeking this or any other office, but adds that if the democratic party of the district calls, he will respond and make the race even livelier than it promises to be.

The democrats of Milton county claim that they can carry the county by a majority of at least three hundred. There is great enthusiasm among the democrats, and sound, vigorous campaign work is going on.

Says The Wrightsville Headlight: "Politics are red hot and still heating. And, by the by, most any style and complexion can be furnished in our glorious old county just at this time. We have democrats, republicans, prohibition, third party, and last and meanest of all, the 'half-and-half' or 'policy' pattern. Democrats lead them all in the race, however, and will beat 'em all to the tank, as usual."

Four counties have endorsed Hon. W. C. Glenn for attorney general out of six that have acted; one has endorsed Hon. Joe Terrell and one Hon. Clifford Anderson. The two last named counties are Meriwether and Calhoun.

HE WILL SPEAK

And the Indications Are That He Will Run for Congress.

SAM SMALL'S SPEAKING APPOINTMENTS.

A Third Party Ticket Which It Is Said Will Be Presented for Statehouse Officers.

If Sam Small is not a candidate for congress his actions belie his intentions.

The nearest that the Rev. Samuel can be brought to talking about his prospective race is saying:

"I promise you one thing. If I go to congress, I won't go to a horse race while legislation is going on."

Then he has made appointments to speak in all the counties of the fifth district.

He announces that he will discuss the political issues of the day and he invites the people to come out and hear him. He also offers to divide time with any speaker who might take issue with him. It is believed that between now and the time he begins to speak he will challenge Colonel Livingston, or any other candidate who may announce for congress, to a joint debate at the places where he has announced to speak.

His appointments are as follows:

Tuseday, May 31—Decatur, 11 a. m.
Tuesday, May 31—Stone Mountain 3 p. m.
Tuesday, May 31—Lithonia, 8 p. m.
Wednesday, June 1—Douglasville, 3 p. m.
Thursday, June 2—Fairburn, 3 p. m.
Thursday, June 2—East Point, 8 p.m.
Friday, June 3—Jonesboro, 3 p. m.
Saturday, June 4—Covington, 2 p. m.
Monday, June 6—Conyers, 2 p. m.
Tuesday, June 7—Atlanta, 8 p. m.
Thursday, June 9—Monroe, 2 p. m.
Thursday, June 9—Social Circle 8 p. m.

It's a question whether the third party will endorse Mr. Small's candidacy or not.

Colonel Peek puts it this way:

"The people don't want Sam Small—at least, I don't think they do."

How's This for a Slate?

For the past few days the city has been full of third party men from all over the state.

Ellington and his friends are still here and remained yesterday in conference with the party leaders at alliance headquarters. They continue to deny that there has been any arbitration between Colonel Peek and Senator Ellington.

The following slate has been fixed up, and will no doubt be presented to the state convention of the third partyites:

For Governor—C. H. Ellington.
For Secretary of State—M. I. Branch.
For Comptroller General—A. W. Ivey.
For Treasurer—C. C. Post.
For Attorney General—J. C. Manning.
For Commissioner of Agriculture—W. R. Gorman.
For Principal Keeper of the Penitentiary—A. G. Daniel.

Thad Pickett In It.

Rev. Thad E. Pickett, the statesman from Ball Ground, is once more in the race for congress for the third party nomination. His county has already endorsed him and he is squarely in the race and will push Tom Winn pretty close for the nomination.

If Rev. Thaddeus is not nominated he may be expected to enter the race independent of third party and every other party. He likes to run, and he don't much care what kind of harness he wears.

HIS BUGGY WAS UPSET,

and Dr. Green Was Dragged in It for Twenty Feet.

A very peculiar and almost serious accident happened to Dr. C. C. Green yesterday afternoon.

About 6 o'clock he returned from a professional visit and drove up South Pryor street Just in front of police headquarters a carraige belonging to Mr. W. P. Pattillo was backed into his buggy by a careless driver.

The vehicle was immediately turned over and the frightened horse dragged the doctor and his negro attendant, who were entangled in the body of the buggy, for fifteen or twenty feet.

The animal was caught and as well as possible the physician, who was at the bottom of the heap, was extricated. The negro succeeded in crawling through the top, entirely unhurt.

Dr. Green, however, did not escape so luckily. His left knee was badly hurt and he was carried into the office of O'Connor, Dawson & Wilson, where he was given medical attention.

As soon as the injured member was dressed, the physician was sent to his home, suffering considerable pain. The accident was of such a nature, however, that the doctor was fortunate in escaping without serious injuries.

DOWN IN AMERICUS.

The Delegation of Knights Templar Who Are There.

A large delegation of Knights Templar from Atlanta went to Americus to attend the grand annual conclave which is now in session in that city.

Those that attended from Atlanta were:

Past Eminent Commander H. C. Stockdell, Eminent Commander Park Woodward, Past Grand Commander C. T. Watson, Past Grand Commander A. G. Howard, Past Grand Prelate Dr. Tupper, Past Grand Prelate Z. B. Moon, Prelate Sam Hape, Guard A. H. VanDyke. Mr. Walter Venable, Mr. Flanders, Dr. Dan Howell and Mr. A. L. Holbrook were in the party, as well as Eminent Commander A. W. Walton, of Rome, commanding No. 8.

A DOCTOR'S WIFE

Who Disappeared from Home, and a Big Reward Is Offered for Her.

The police are on the lookout for Mrs. Rosamond L. Peckenbaugh, the wife of a well-known physician of Mount Vernon, Ind.

Several days ago she mysteriously disappeared from her home. It was afterwards ascertained that she wore a traveling suit when last seen, and it is thought that she is some distance from Mount Vernon. No reasons can be assigned for her absence, beyond a temporary aberration of mind.

Yesterday Chief Connolly received a communication from that city, in which a thousand-dollars-reward was offered for any information leading to the discovery of the lady, if alive, and half that sum for the finding of her body, if dead.

The force was notified and if Mrs. Peckenbaugh is in or about Atlanta, every effort will be made to find her.

A BAD BREAK

Which J. W. Lewis, a White Man, Is Charged with Having Made.

J. W. Lewis, a white man, was last evening arrested by Patrolman T. P. Taylor and locked up at police headquarters.

About dark Lewis entered Woodward's store on Decatur street, and, it is charged, took an expensive hammer and left with it. He was found later on attempting to erase the proprietor's name that had been engraved on it.

He was placed under arrest at the instance of Mr. Woodward and brought to the station house, where he was booked on the charge of larceny.

A warrant will be sworn out against him today.

BROKE JAIL.

Two Desperate White Criminals Who Had Life Sentences Get Free.

Two desperate criminals broke jail at Milledgeville on day before yesterday and a reward is offered for their capture.

The men are George Brandt, a murderer, and Charles Turner, an incendiary who set fire to a mill. Both had been tried and given life sentences for their respective crimes.

The parties are both white and every effort will be made to catch them. It is thought that they are together. The police were yesterday notified of their escape.

WILL ARRIVE TODAY.

Hundreds of Delegates to the Southern Baptist Convention

WILL REACH ATLANTA TODAY.

The Atlanta Baptists Prepared to Receive Them—A Reception Headquarters Established.

Tomorrow morning one of the biggest conventions ever held in Atlanta will convene in Trinity church.

It will be the southern Baptist convention and a notable assembly it will be. Composed of leading citizens and Baptist ministers from every city and town of the south, met to consider what is for the good of the Baptists of this whole section, the body will be an interesting and an important one.

The most learned divines of the Baptist faith in the south will be present and lend their aid in the councils of their denomination. The vast business of the meeting will keep the convention here from tomorrow until next Tuesday and all that time will be utilized in transacting the business of the convention.

A number of delegates to the convention have already arrived, and are at the places which have been assigned to them by the reception committee.

Every train today will bring in great numbers of delegates from every quarter and the committee of ladies and gentlemen will have their hands full in seeing that they are properly cared for and all given homes. A headquarters has been established at the corner of Pryor and Decatur streets in the building formerly occupied by the Dresden. Here any information concerning the convention can be obtained. A number of ladies and gentlemen were at the headquarters all day yesterday, and they were kept busy.

Lists of persons who will take delegates are kept at the headquarters and as the delegates come in the committee will assign them to homes, selecting from the list.

Today the committee will have its hands full receiving and taking care of delegates. By tonight over two thousand strangers will be in the city to attend the convention and tomorrow morning as many of them as can crowd inside of Trinity church will do so to attend the opening session of the convention.

The first business of the convention will be the arrangement of the roll of delegates and the election of a permanent president. The first day of the convention will most likely be taken up in organization.

Sunday nearly every pulpit in Atlanta will be filled by visiting Baptist ministers. Among the most prominent Baptists who will be here is Dr. J. L. M. Curry, the exminister to Spain.

Among the delegates already arrived is Hon. George W. Dudley, of Winona, Miss., the editor of The Winona Times. He is stopping with Hon. Frank P. Rice.

A COMPROMISE IN FULTON COUNTY.

A Movement on Foot Looking to a Division of the Delegation.

There may be a compromise delegation sent to the state convention from Fulton county.

The following letter on that line will explain itself. Dr. R. D. Spalding is an avowed Hill man, and Captain T. B. Neal is as earnest a Cleveland supporter, but both of them prefer party success to that of any one man, and they want to avoid the excitement into which the county will be plunged during the next week if it is called upon to elect delegates on a straight issue between men.

A Joint Letter.

Atlanta, Ga., May 4, 1892.—Hon. John T. Glenn, President Hill Club; Hon. W. D. Ellis, President Cleveland Club.—My Dear Sirs: We, the undersigned, are representatives, one of the Cleveland and another of the Hill sentiment in Atlanta. We also belong to the number of those who have doubted the wisdom of making an aggressive fight inside the party over the nomination. We notice that on Tuesday a number of the counties throughout the state, appreciating the importance of democratic harmony and unity, have divided their delegations equally between Cleveland and Hill, and have sent them uninstructed to the convention. We believe that the fight in Georgia between Cleveland and Hill should be stopped. We especially think that it would be unwise to go through a heated campaign in this county over the selection of Cleveland and Hill delegates. Entertaining these views we desire to urge you to call together your committees, and to arrange a plan by which the delegation of Fulton county may be divided between Cleveland and Hill, and be sent to the state convention with a view to supporting a delegation to the national convention composed equally of Cleveland and Hill men, instructed, however, to support, when they reach Chicago, that candidate for president and that candidate for vice president who in their honest opinion will most advance the interests of the democratic party, and most assuredly bring success.

T. B. NEAL.
R. D. SPALDING.

It will be remembered that the county democratic executive committee has fixed Friday, the 13th of May, as the date for selecting delegates to the state convention of May 18th.

Since that time, both the Hill and the Cleveland men have been putting on their war paint, and have been getting ready for the primaries. The bitterest sort of a fight is promised, and if it comes off Fulton county will, no doubt, be treated to one of the liveliest campaigns ever held in her history.

A Constitution reporter, hearing of the correspondence passing yesterday looking to a compromise delegation from this county, similar to the compromise effected in the county of Richmond, by which a divided delegation was sent, inquired of Captain Ellis and Colonel Glenn what they thought about the compromise.

Captain Ellis Favors It.

"I will call the Cleveland Club executive committee together at once," said the former, "and will submit the matter to them. I have seen some of the most active men in the club, and they, like myself, think favorably of the plan. While I have no doubt we can carry the county for Cleveland, still I think it would be very unfortunate for the county to undergo the turmoil and excitement which would necessarily follow a heated contest over the election of delegates. I will call the Cleveland Club executive committee together at once."

So Does Colonel Glenn.

Hon. John T. Glenn, chairman of the Hill executive committee, was inclined to view the matter very much in the same light with Captain Ellis. "While I am sure," said he, "that we would be able to carry the county for Hill, I think it would be well to subordinate our personal preferences and send a compromise delegation of conservative men who have the success of the democratic party first at heart, and who will be governed accordingly. We had everything in readiness for the fight, if it must come, on the 18th instant, and had promised to make it as lively as possible. If the fight must come, I doubt if this county has ever seen such a lively contest as we would have next week. But I think that it would do more harm than good, and that, instead of leveling our guns at each other, we ought to get ready for our common enemy, the third party. I have asked the Hill executive committee to meet tomorrow to consider the matter."

THE FIRST PAYMENT.

Mr. A. L. Kontz Planks Down $7,750 on the Broad Street Property.

Mr. A. L. Kontz will take the hook and ladder building, which he purchased from the city.

It will be remembered that he objected to taking it because it fell eight inches short of what it was said to contain.

The city council gave Mr. Kontz forty-eight hours from 3 o'clock Monday to take or reject the building, and yesterday Mr. Kontz made the first payment upon the building. It was $7,750.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' MEETING.

Judge Gober's Bill Causes a Resolution—A Number of Small Matters Acted On.

A number of matters came up before the regular meeting of the county commissioners yesterday and were acted upon, but nothing of very great interest was done.

A full board was present.

Treasurer Payne's statement for the month of April showed that $12,528.92 was collected and on the 1st of May there was a balance of $45,300.30.

A license to sell whisky by the quart was granted to Mr. Eugene Jacobs, the druggist at Schumann's corner, upon petition.

A bill from Sheriff Morrow, for expenses in the care of juries, went the way of Judge Gober's bill. It was given to the city attorney for his opinion as the its legality.

A petition asking that Wilson avenue be paved from Peachtree to West Peachtree streets was presented by Mr. Jack Spalding. The petitioners proposed to pay a good part of the expense of paving.

The commissioners were divided upon the granting of the petition, and Mr. Spalding withdrew the petition.

A Cobb county gentleman had a request to make of the board. He asked that the old-time thoroughfare, known as Mason Turner ferry road, be reopened and kept up as a public road.

This was the first time the matter has been before the board and the commissioners spent some time in reviewing the history of the road

Finally Commissioner Collins was empowered to act in the matter with the advice of the county attorney.

The people along the line of the new waterworks main presented a petition asking to be allowed to open a road along the line, from pumping station No. 2 to the reservoir, a distance of about half a mile. The matter was referred to the commissioners of roads of that district.

The bill for the county map was presented. It will be paid as soon as its correction is passed upon.

County Attorney Thomson announced that that bill of Judge Gober's for $18, which was presented at the last meeting, had been withdrawn.

Dr. Nelms said that injustice had been done to Judge Gober by what had been published.

In this view County Attorney Thomson coincided.

Mr. Collins introduced the following resolution concerning it which was adopted:

Resolved, That the action of this board in referring the bill of expenses of Judge Gober to our attorney for an opinion as to its legality was not intended as a reflection upon the integrity and standing of Judge Gober.

The commissioners have a very high opinion of Judge Gober.

HE FELL ASLEEP,

And Awoke to Find Himself Just Three Hundred Dollars Poorer.

The entire force of hands of Robert Maloy, the proprietor of a barber shop at the corner of Broad and Peachtree streets, was arrested by the police yesterday afternoon.

Later in the day Maloy himself was locked up at the station house.

The parties were booked on the charge of larceny.

Yesterday morning John Brown, the proprietor of a fruit store on Peachtree street, visited the place. While in one of the chairs he fell asleep. When he awoke, he found his money, which he had been in the habit of keeping in a purse in an outside pocket, gone.

He immediately questioned the barbers about his loss, but could obtain no satisfaction and reported the matter to Patrolman B. T. Wilson.

The money amounted, he said, to $300.

Call Officer Ivy and Detectives Bedford and Cason went to the place and arrested Will Evans, Jack Echols, Walter Dukes and Robert Maloy. Eugene Lewis, the man who was thought to have taken the money, could not be found.

Later on he was caught at his home and was placed under arrest. The men, it is thought, succeeded in abstracting the pocketbook and passed it from one to another.

They will be given a preliminary hearing today.

A CASE OF MURDER

To Be Booked Against Jeff Rockmore, Who Struck Jerry Smith.

Jerry Smith, the negro who was assaulted by Jeff Rockmore on Monday night near Oakland cemetery, died yesterday morning at the Providence infirmary, where he was taken after being hurt.

He never regained consciousness after being struck and could tell nothing at all about the affair. It was impossible to perform any operation on him because of his critical condition and his death was expected to occur at any time.

A post mortem was held last night and Smith's skull found to have been fractured This morning an inquest will be held over him, and this afternoon he will be carried to Covington for burial.

Rockmore was carried yesterday morning to the DeKalb county jail at Decatur. The killing took place just outside Fulton and the negro will pay the penalty of his crime there From his own confession, the slaying of Smith was premeditated and the assaulted negro was taken unawares.

His excuse for the attack was his being worsted in a quarrel three days before. The crowbar that did the work has been found.

A POLICEMAN ARRESTED

On a Warrant Charging Him with Assault with Intent to Murder.

A warrant was yesterday sworn out against Policeman John Ethridge, charging him with assault with intent to murder.

The complainant was Jim Peevy, who was assaulted by the officer on Monday night on Decatur street.

Yesterday afternoon the patrolman was brought before Justice Manning on a preliminary hearing. The evidence showed that Ethridge was attacked by Peevy in the act of attempting to arrest him and that he was bruised by blows in several places.

It was shown that the officer was finally compelled to use his club, and it was then that Peevy was knocked down by a blow over the head that gashed him badly and drew forth blood. He required medical attention and was almost knocked senseless.

Justice Manning, however, regarded the blow as given altogether in self-defense and dismissed the warrant against the officer, who was allowed to go.

Peevy was given $10 and cost by Recorder Calhoun on Tuesday.

A NEW COLORED MISSION.

The Georgia Diocese Purchases a New Location for the Colored Members.

The Georgia diocese has purchased a new location for its colored members in Atlanta.

The new mission is situated at the corner of Hilliard and Schofield streets.

The cost of the place was $2,000. The lot fronts on Hilliard street 48 1-2 feet and extends back on Schofield 85 feet.

This mission will be used exclusively for the colored members of Atlanta. The present mission services are held in a hall over Tappan's store on Peachtree street. It will require some time yet for the mission to be put in proper condition for holding services.

GUNS AND KNIVES

Seem to Have Had No Terrors for William Slaughter, a Negro.

William Slaughter, a darky bearing evidences of a very rough life, occupies a cell at police headquarters.

Yesterday morning he was found riding in a box car on the Central by the freight conductor, who locked him in it until the train reached the city. The negro was then turned over to Sergeant White, who brought him to the station house.

The body of the darky was almost covered with bullet-holes. His clothes were perforated in more than a dozen places. His back showed two ugly gashes, and across his wrist was a bad knife cut.

Slaughter is believed to be wanted somewhere and is being held on suspicion. He is about twenty-five years old and of small build.

BOND WAS DENIED

Will Grigsby and Gertie Jacobs, His Wife, on Yesterday.

THEY ARE BROUGHT BACK TO ATLANTA

From Houston and Held at Police Headquarters—Cliff Mayson Allowed to Go on Bail—The Trip Home.

Cliff Mayson, William Channing Grigsby and Gertie Jacobs were brought to Atlanta at noon yesterday from Houston, Tex.

They were in the custody of Officers Jordan and Carlisle and were accompanied by Mrs. Cliff Mayson, who was with the party when they were placed under arrest.

The three prisoners were brought to police headquarters and held on the charge of forgery. They are accused of having forged a mortgage and through it securing a loan of $1,500 from the Atlanta National Loan and Building Association.

To the hands of Gertie Jacobs is laid the work of having forged the name of Mrs. A. F. Taylor to two checks amounting to $500. These were endorsed, it is charged, by Cliff Mayson, under an assumed name.

Mrs. Cliff Mayson did not come to the station house with the officers. A short while ago she secured a divorce from a former husband and took her maiden name of Lula Alexander. Since the departure of Cliff Mayson from Atlanta, she was married to him.

When he was arrested at Houston she remained with him. Yesterday he was taken to police headquarters and the young woman stayed at the ladies' waiting room at the union depot.

As soon as Chief Connolly learned that Mrs. Mayson had accompanied the party, he detailed Officer Carlisle to arrest her. She readily came to the police station and was placed with the other prisoners in Chief Connolly's office.

It was decidedly advisable to separate them, however, and Grigsby was put in cell No. 1, in the lockup, and the three others were kept in various rooms on the upper floor.

Were Refused Bond.

Yesterday afternoon Mayson was allowed to furnish bond. He had no difficulty in procuring bail. Before Justice Orr, who fixed the amount at $1,000, he gave bond and was released from custody. There was no charge against his wife and she was allowed to go.

Gertie Jacobs and Will Grigsby were denied a similar privilege. The woman was kept under guard in Chief Connolly's office and both prisoners will be held until ready for a preliminary hearing.

It will doubtless be granted them today. The detectives and Chief Connolly have worked up the strongest kind of evidence and are ready to proceed with a commitment trial at any time.

The Atlanta National Building and Loan Association intends vigorously prosecuting all the parties concerned. Grigsby's father is expected to arrive from Washington today.

Gertie Jacobs, the young woman who left Atlanta with Grigsby, was married to him in New Orleans. She is well known in Atlanta, particularly among sporting circles.

A BIG AFFAIR

Is What the Policemen's Picnic Promises to Be Next Week.

Nearly one thousand tickets have been sold for the policemen's picnic to be held on next Tuesday at Vining's station.

Chief Connolly has engaged Lilly's band for the occasion and the affair gives promise of being one of the most enjoyable of its kind that the force has ever had.

The money to be realized on the picnic will be added to the fund of the Police Relief Association. A big crowd will be on hand, and with the many interesting features of the day there is no doubt but that they will all have a splendid time.

CITY NOTES.

The body of Mrs. William H. Clarke, who died at St. Joseph's infirmary yesterday, will be shipped this morning to Albany, Ala. Mrs. Clarke's residence was 140 Spring street, but she was at the infirmary for treatment.

The case against Tom Cole, before Commissioner Haight, yesterday, was dismissed for want of witnesses. Cole is the young man who stopped a Georgia Pacific train some months ago by himself—it is thought with the intention of robbery, but the case was not strong enough against him and he was released.

The board of education meets this afternoon to receive the report of the committee on text books and the course of study of the public schools for next year.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will hold its regular weekly meeting tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that the lady members will attend in force.

Mr. E. Rivers, of the Central railroad, goes to Augusta this morning for a month's vacation.

The body of Dr. W. A. J. Anderson, who died at the residence of his son on Haynes street day before yesterday, was shipped yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road to Powder Springs for interment.

WILL WIN TODAY.

That's What the Atlanta Ball Team Will Do.

MASKREY WILL WORK ONCE MORE,

And the White Shirts Won't Be in It—A Solid Blue Will Be Worn.

Lawson lost his first game yesterday.

But it wasn't Lawson's fault.

His pitching was the finest and best seen on the Atlanta diamond since Shaffer's grand work in the memorable Atlanta-Savannah game.

Five hits were made off his delivery, and, of the five, two were most pronounced scratches.

Of the three safe hits, one was made after chances to retire the side had been lost by Lawson's support. Had those chances been properly cared for, only two hits would have been charged up to Lawson.

And Atlanta would have won the game.

Eight errors were charged up to the Atlanta team, and, of the eight, Westlake made four, while Berryhill had two. It was those errors that lost Atlanta the game. One of Westlake's errors alone let in three runs, and that, too, after two men were out. Westlake's playing has been honest and sincere all along, and there is not a man on the team who pleases Maskrey and the directors better.

But every man has his off-day, and it came to Westlake yesterday.

Today, however, he will redeem himself.

Friend played in center field and Hill in right. For the first time this season, Hill muffed a fly ball, but, fortunately, it did not net Mobile anything. Friend covered his territory well, and at the bat showed himself a hitter. Every one of the boys hit the ball, and the game was only lost by errors.

But the error column will be mighty small today.

Kelly pitched Daniels, and his work was good. The entire team worked well, but the game ought not to have gone to them.

The Game Today.

Atlanta will win today with hands down.

That can be taken for a fact.

Maskrey will play himself, and that alone means victory. His hand is quite sore yet, but he says he can't sit on the bench any longer. His presence in the team will inspire them with a full confidence in their ability to win when they go into the game, and it's dollars to cents that Jack Kelly's smile will be worn on the back of his head tonight.

The spectators won't see any white shirts, either, on the field today.

The Atlanta team will discard them, and come out in solid blue suits.

Those blue suits have been Atlanta's mascot, while the whites have been a sure Jonah.

Away from home the Atlantas wore the blue, and they won. Since coming home, they have worn the white, and they have been losing.

With Maskrey in the right, and the boys clad in blue, Atlanta will win today beyond a doubt.

Campfield will do the pitching, and is determined to put up the best game he has ever rendered. The teams will be:

Atlanta.	Position.	Mobile.
Campfield	Pitcher	Frank
Schabel	Catcher	Schaub
Dooly	1st base	Conley
McIntyre	2d base	O'Connell
Berryhill	3d base	King
Westlake	Shortstop	Fuller
Long	Left field	Hays
Hill	Center field	Hazen
Maskrey	Right field	Pike

The game has been called in the past at 3:45 o'clock, but from today on it will be called at 4 o'clock.

Wilson, the umpire, seems to want to be fair, but he is certainly anything else than fair. Both teams were given the worst of it yesterday. Once he called Long out at home, after a desperate slide, when even Kelly said he was safe.

The score reads interestingly. It is:

Chattanooga Still Wins.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 4.—(Special.)—The second game of the New Orleans-Chattanooga series resulted in a crushing defeat for the visitors.

Stellberger occupied the box for New Orleans and was batted all over the field.

Keenan pitched for the locals. His curves were puzzlers and it was not until the sixth inning that the visitors batted with any result. His work in the box was exceptionally good. Five men were caught on bases and eleven struck out.

Stellberger struck out one man. Lacourage made a three-base hit in the sixth which brought in two men. Geiss lead the batting for the locals, making three two-base hits. Williams also batted exceptionally well.

In the fifth inning it began raining, and Captain McKie made a desperate effort to delay the game. His effort resulted disastrously, however, as the locals made two runs and twelve errors were chalked up against his team. The splendid infield work of the local team and the outfield work of the visitors were notable features.

Birmingham Wins Again.

Birmingham, Ala., May 4.—(Special.)—The second game in the Memphis-Birmingham series was won today by the home team by a score of 8 to 2. Petty and Sweeney made the home battery and Meaney and Adams were the points for the visitors. Meaney proved to be a pretty sharp base-watcher, and on account of his left-handed throwing fooled the Birmingham runners. Petty pitched and played a great game, while both catchers did good work. Adams made a brilliant catch, putting Mills out on a foul. He fell, but arose with the ball in his hand. Meaney was batted heavily and had not the fielders worked so well the score would have been more in Birmingham's favor.

Macon Loses Again.

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The game between Montgomery and Macon this afternoon was decidedly the most uninteresting that has yet been played in Macon. Both teams played poor ball. The Macon team went to pieces and allowed the Montgomerys to run up a big score. Notwithstanding the poor play Jahns, of the Macon team, was especially conspicuous for his errors.

In the Carolinas.

Columbia, S. C., May 4.—(Special.)—The South Atlantic League game between Columbia and Charlotte this afternoon was the most brilliant and phenomenal one ever played in this state, resulting 1 to 0 in Columbia's favor, after ten hard-fought innings. The game abounded in critical situations, which were invariably followed by brilliant plays. In the eighth inning Charlotte had three men on bases and one out. Strayton, their heavy batter, rapped a long high foul fly, which was caught by Third Baseman Dunn. The catch was phenomenal. Dunn ran a long distance, and fell, catching the ball in one hand while he was on the ground. Only two errors were made; one on each side. Batteries—Columbia, Wynne and Daly; Charlotte, Warmsley and Gantz.

The game at Charleston resulted: Charleston 3; Winston 1.

Death of a Noted Man.

Carrollton, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Hon. C. F. Graw, deputy grand master, will go down tomorrow and bury Mr. Camp with Masonic honors.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Mr. Hugh Inman Declines to Remain on the Central Board.

A SMALL BLOCK WILL CONTROL.

President Comer Will Need But a Few Thousand Shares to Make Himself Perfectly Secure.

Mr. Hugh Inman will not be a candidate for re-election as a director of the Central railroad. He expects to be absent from Georgia for three or four months this summer and has written to President Comer requesting that his name be left off the directors' ticket. Mr. Inman has also written to Judge Speer asking to be relieved as a member of the board of receivers.

Nothing new comes from New York about the disposition of the 42,200 shares of Central stock which is enjoined from voting at the coming election this month. Indeed, so little is being said about this block of stock that it is almost suspicious.

At the last election in January about 53,000 shares were voted and of these 42,200 were the Terminal's block. As pointed out some time ago in The Constitution only 11,000 shares of the minority stock were voted. The full minority holdings amount to 32,800 shares. If 20,000 shares are voted at the coming election it will be the largest minority vote polled in years and probably larger than was ever voted. Mr. Comer and his board of directors should not have any trouble controlling the coming election. Probably 8,000 shares will be a majority of the shares voted, on Monday, May 16th. More than thirty prominent stockholders have signed a call for a meeting of stockholders to be held in Savannah on the day of election.

If the management will give a free excursion to the stockholders a good meeting can be secured. On the other hand, if they have to pay their way to and from Savannah the most of them will do their voting by proxy. Mr. Comer's friends say that he has in hand a large number of proxies.

Richmond Terminal Affairs.

With tomorrow, the time for depositing underlying securities in the Richmond Terminal's reorganization plan expires again. An officer of the Terminal is authority for the information that the company is at the present moment in an easy financial condition. President Oakman referred to the future when he wrote his rather alarming letter to Mr. Olcott on April 25th, this official seems to think.

At Monday's meeting of the Olcott committee it was decided that deposits of Terminal securities under the plan would be received thereafter subject to a penalty of 2 per cent in cash. The deposits of securities up to Monday were:

Common stock	$59,324,000
Preferred Stock	3,720,000
Collateral trust, 5's	7,773,000
Collateral trust, 6's	2,088,000
Total deposits	$72,906,100

There was outstanding $18,000,000 in the several securities of the Terminal itself and $111,000,000 of the underlying securities. The securities though deposited remain alive until the various consolidations contemplated do away with the necessity for their existence.

Now that the East Tennessee has paid its May interest it is expected that securities of that company will be turned in more freely than heretofore. Mr. Olcott's committee gave notice a few days ago that it would collect the coupons due May 1st on such underlying bonds as were on deposit with it, and pay the money over to the owners upon presentation of the reorganization certificates, which will be stamped with a memorandum of the transaction.

It is not theory but fact—that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong. A fair trial will convince you of its merit.

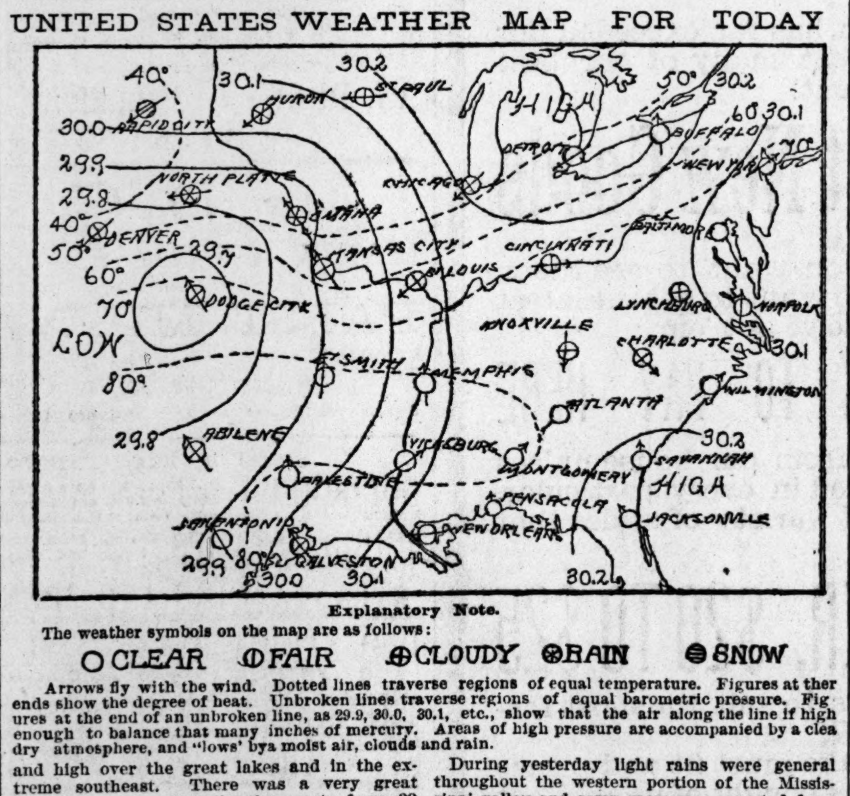

COMING TO THE CONVENTION.

Two of the Roads Are Running Solid Baptist Trains.

The Western and Atlantic will bring three special Baptist trains into Atlanta today. One will come from Cincinnati by way of Louisville. Another comes through from Kansas and the north of Texas. The third brings the Nashville and Chattanooga delegates. Tickets will be sold from tomorrow until Tuesday for one fare for the round trip on the Rome express, good to return until May 17th.

The Richmond and Danville's No. 9, arriving from the north at 11:20 o'clock this morning will run in two sections, one consisting of seven Pullmans, bringing delegates and visitors to the convention. The Richmond and Danville brings in today also a sleeper from New Orleans, one from Birmingham and a sleeper and a chair car from Arkansas.

UNITED STATES WEATHER MAP FOR TODAY

Explanatory Note.

The weather symbols on the map are as follows:

○ CLEAR ◐ FAIR ⊕ CLOUDY ⊛ RAIN ⊜ SNOW

Arrows fly with the wind. Dotted lines traverse regions of equal temperature. Figures at their ends show the degree of heat. Unbroken lines traverse regions of equal barometric pressure. Figures at the end of an unbroken line, as 29.9, 30.0, 30.1, etc., show that the air along the line if high enough to balance that many inches of mercury. Areas of high pressure are accompanied by a clear dry atmosphere, and "lows" by a moist air, clouds and rain.

During yesterday light rains were general throughout the western portion of the Mississippi valley and some snow was reported from Rapid City, South Dakota. Rain was also reported from a few points along the Atlantic coast. The barometer was low in the west and high over the great lakes and in the extreme southeast. There was a very great range of temperature in the west, from 32 degrees at Rapid City to 84 degrees at Abeline. The thermometers along the Atlantic coast are very high. The prospects are for generally fair weather and somewhat cooler.

Royal Baking Powder Has no Equal.

The United States Official Report

Of the Government Baking Powder tests recently made, under authority of Congress, by the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., furnishes the highest authoritative information as to which powder is the best. The Official Report shows the ROYAL superior to all others in leavening power; a cream of tartar powder of highest quality.

"ORMEWOOD PARK."

A Southeastern Suburb Which Is Attracting Attention.

SPLENDID LOCALITY FOR A HOME.

Lots Bought at Ormewood Park Will Double in Value in Two Years—A Rare Chance for Investors.

Since the people of the south have begun to recuperate from the ravages of war, and to rebuild their shattered fortunes, it is noticeable that they are returning to the ante-bellum modes and customs of living.

At that period every city resident, who had sufficient means to afford such a luxury, always owned a country seat in addition to his town place.

Between the two he divided his time, and lived in the regal splendor of a prince.

This custom is being re-established in all the cities of the south, and this is the principal reason why suburban property around the large cities is in such great demand. When the business men, nowadays, accumulate dollars enough, a tendency seizes him to build an attractive home in a fashionable suburb, where he can have plenty of room and all the pure air he wishes. A few years from now, if a wealthy citizen of Atlanta does not own a suburban home, he will lose his place entirely in the fashionable swim. This does not alone apply to the man of large means, the popular fad has also been seized upon by the man whose only resources is his monthly salary; with him it is a matter of necessity. His pocketbook is not sufficiently plethoric to invest in a city home, and, threfore, he seeks the suburbs perforce.

The harmonious blending of these elements have made Atlanta what it is, and fringed her environments with the pleasing picture of happy homes, with their green swards, climbing vines and majestic trees, which greet the eye in every direction. One of the most notable evidences of the desirability of suburban property is shown by the popular demand for property that lies east and southeast of Atlanta. Hundreds of handsome homes have gone up in these sections in the last five years, and building operations are continuing at such a rate that the territory surrounding the Confederate Soldiers' Home will be taken into the city at a very early period. This is a very desirable section, and seems to have been intended by nature as a home center. The land lies beautifully for building purposes, and the tendency of population in this direction has promoted the acquirement of facilities, which, figuratively speaking, place it almost in the city.

Just this side of the soldiers' home, one-fourth of a mile from the city limits, is a very choice reservation, now attracting home builders, known as "Ormewood Park." It is a plat of 100 acres, which has been subdivided in large, well-platted lots by Messrs. Samuel W. Goode & Co., and put on the market for sale. This property has already acquired quite a number of very choice residents, and the localities around it are superb in every particular. Handsome streets and broad avenues have been graded in Ormewood Park; in fact, a grand avenue, sixty feet wide, extends from Grant park through the entire property, and the property is otherwise accessible by every drive that leads to Grant park, which charming resort is a near neighbor.

The Metropolitan dummy line, which runs cars every forty minutes from the city in this direction, passes squarely through Ormwood Park, and affords residents all transportation facilities and quick communication with the city.

The object of Messrs. Goode & Co. is to make Ormewood Park a high-grade residence center, and the property is being improved with that end in view. The company has arranged for a big lot sale on Thursday, May 12th, at 10 o'clock a. m. One of those barbecues on which Messrs. Goode & Co. have acquired reputation will be provided, and a splendid band of musicians employed to entertain the vast crowd which will attend the sale.

Mr. Albert L. Beck, one of the energetic members of the company, who is so popularly known in Atlanta, has the management of the event in hand, and he says that the occasion will be one to be remembered.

Ormewood Park is a reservation that offers rare inducements to men of small means who wish to buy a site on which to build a home. Being only one-fourth of a mile from the city limits, it is close enough for all objects of convenience and pleasure. The property all around it is rapidly being filled with residences, and it would have been the same way with Ormewood Park, had it been accessible to purchasers before this. Lots will be sold at the sale, on May 12th, to the highest bidder, and special inducements will be given to those who agree to build residences costing not less than $1,000 each.

The proceeds of this sale will be devoted exclusively to improving the property, thereby enhancing at once the value of the lots sold. From all appearances, this is a rare opportunity for some one with a small amount of ready cash to make a nice little "spec," or to secure a home dirt cheap. The Fair street dummy line, which runs regularly every forty minutes, will carry the crowd out to the lot sale on Thursday, May 12th, free of charge. The sale will begin promptly at 10 o'clock, and it is unnecessary to say it will be largely attended.

The old saying that "consumption can be cured if taken in time" was poor comfort. It seemed to invite a trial, but to anticipate failure. The other one, not so old, "consumption can be cured," is considered by many false.

Both are true and not true; the first is prudent—one cannot begin too early.

On May 5, 1698, the authorities of the county of Bucks, England, issued an order directing that "All vagrants be whipped naked from the middle upward until the bodies be bloody."

Under laws similar to this, hundreds were mercilessly flogged with reference to neither age nor sex. The victims were tied to a whipping post of comparatively rude contrivance.

It is impossible, either with or without a whipping post, to beat our low prices, if you want to buy a Trunk or Valise. We are fixed for great sales; all the conditions are right. The stock has been rearranged and the prices readjusted—both are irresistible. ABE FOOTE & BRO.,

FINE CIGARS.

Smokers, attention! Bear in mind that you have to pay for your cigars and are entitled to the best for the money. There is no earthly excuse for any one to buy and smoke "bad" cigars, when good ones can be bought at the same price.

Let those who want to know what they smoke call at Cuesta's Havana Cigar factory and see for themselves how painstaking leaf after leaf is handled in Cuban style and made into "La Corona" by skilled Cuban cigarmakers.

Remember, that the Havana tobacco that I use is of my own importation—the very best—and has been selected especially for this market by myself in the city of Havana. I cordially invite the public to call at my factory, corner Peachtree street and Edgewood avenue, and inspect my goods.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

New York, May 4.—The stock market today gave no indication of getting out of the rut of dullness and practical stagnation into which it has fallen, and while there was some show of animation in the early dealings later trading was marked by even more intense dullness than has been seen at any time since the first of the year. The features of the day were continued pressures upon Northern Pacific and a subsequent recovery with strength developed in Missouri Pacific on light transactions, and advances in Cordage and Northwestern preferred. The upward movement in Cordage was principally making up of stock on short interest, but buying in others mentioned besides Lackawanna, Louisville, New Albany, and Chicago, Reading, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Lake Shore was of the best kind. Early dealings were listless, and after a steady opening prices in a few stocks advanced, but the movements spread to the entire list by the afternoon, and while gains in most are for small fractions the only advance in a few stocks were large, and gave character to the whole market. There was no diminution of stocks and the close was quiet but firm at or about the best of the day.

Final changes show a gain invariably, and Northwestern preferred is up 2 per cent, Cordage 1 1-2 per cent and Missouri Pacific and New England each 1 3-8 per cent. Sales of listed, 184,000 shares; unlisted, 8,000 shares.

Exchange quiet and steady at 487½@489; commercial bills 486@487.

Money easy at 1½@2, closing offered at 2.

Sub-treasury balances: Coin, $103,794,009; currency, $19,080,000.

J. S. Bache & Co.'s Stock Letter.

By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The market opened about steady and shortly after the opening the London market became a little stronger and they began to buy a little St. Paul. Although their purchases only amounted to three or four thousand shares still it was enough to give a cue to the traders and they worked all day on the bull side. They argued that as London was coming in again as a buyer and the short interest has grown to respectable proportions the latter would have to cover. The room traders were successful in a measure, as they brought on quite a rally during the afternoon. St. Paul was strong throughout and although the earnings for the fourth week did not show up as well as the preceding weeks still, according to the present returns the stock earns a dividend of over 5 per cent. The Cammack party attacked New England during the morning session and sold large blocks of it. We think the short interest in this stock considerable. The rumors are of a very blue character, just the opposite to what they were when the stock was 20 points higher. The short interest has again taken fright and bought some stocks during the afternoon. If London comes in strong tomorrow the rally will continue, but when this interest is covered up prices will sag off again.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Liverpool market this morning was 2@3-64d better for futures, and sales on the spot were reported to be 6,000 bales. Yarns in Manchester were called very strong, while cloths were in moderate demand. Our private cable attributed the improvement to a rumor that a compromise of the lock-out next week was not improbable, and said that an important meeting upon the subject between masters and employes would be held tomorrow. The dispatch, however, was non-committal in its character, and does not lead us to look with confidence for any immediate settlement of the labor difficulties. In the New York market, notwithstanding the favorable advices from abroad, opening prices were slightly below last night's figures. A gradual recovery, however, set in, and by 11:30 an advance of from 5@6 points had been established. This was followed by a recession by 12:30 to 7.41 for August. The improvement seems to have been the result of a covering of the short interest, and the reaction that followed is attributable to realizing sales on the part of the weaker and more timid long interest. The agricultural commissioner of Alabama advises us that his report will show an average decrease of 16⅜ per cent in cotton acreage. During the afternoon an easier feeling continued to prevail, resulting in a loss of nearly the whole of the earlier improvement. Final prices were barely steady about 1 point below last evening's figures. For the present the market seems to have discounted the unfavorable crop news, and continuous buying is required to support it. Receipts at the three interior towns of St. Louis, Memphis and Augusta are 576 bales, against 750 bales last year.

Lehman Bros.' Cotton Letter.

By private wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, May 4—Liverpool this morning was about 2-64d higher, which was not quite as full an advance as had been expected, and the market opened at a point or so lower than last night. It was rumored all day long here that several of the state agricultural bureaus would come out with material decreases in the acreage for their respective states, and under this impression buying started in anew, and before long the market had advanced some 5@6 points. With the higher prices, however, there was an immediate falling off in the inquiry, and it seems that considerable limited cotton was reached on the uptrack, so that such demand as there was, was readily supplied, and before noon the offerings became decidedly more free, and values again sold off to nearly the first quotations; after which the business became light and the fluctuations very small, the close being as it was last night. If there is any truth in the expectation of a largely reduced acreage there is absolutely no question but what cotton ought to do materially better. We are, however, very reluctant to credit such extreme decreases, and it is hard to realize such a condition, particularly in the light of what we hear. It would certainly, in our opinion, be a wise step on the part of the south, and redound to the benefit of everybody directly or indirectly connected with cotton. There has been no feature to the trading today outside of the fact of the realizing mentioned above. Liverpool is halting, and awaits developments of the nearby meetings between the operatives and master spinners in regard to the present troubles there. We believe that an early settlement of this matter must have at least a temporary bearing upon prices.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, May 4—There was not much life in the wheat market today. Trade was narrow and largely professional; and, while there was a good deal of bull news, the market was extremely dull most of the day, and while holding rather firm did not show any upward impulse. July opened ⅜ higher at 81½c, sold up to 81¾c, then, the small shorts having been satisfied and Pardridge turning seller, the market weakened to 81¼c. From this prices strengthened to and held steadily around 81½c for a long time. During the last hour trade was dull, the price weakening to 81⅜c, but on stronger closing cables there was an advance to 81¾c. This appreciation, however, was lost near the close, and the market closed easy at the lowest price of the day.

Corn showed decided strength. The weather conditions pointing to delay in planting if not serious reduction in acreage was the chief strengthening factor, but cables were also better. There is a considerable short interest, and in view of the unfavorable outlook there was a general disposition to cover, but offerings were limited. May was more strongly affected than July. It opened with an advance of ¼c at 42⅜c and sold to 43⅝c, closing at 43c. July started ¼@½c higher at 40¾@41c, and did not go higher than the outside price at the start, closing unchanged.

Oats were quiet but rather steady. There was some strength early, but later trade became dull, and prices were easier.

The close for pork was at medium figures and at an advance of 10c over yesterday's last figures. Lard is practically unchanged and ribs are 2½c up.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood.

Chicago, May 4.—Foreign markets are generally firm with advancing tendency. Liverpool, Berlin and Paris are 1-4 to 1 cent per bushel higher. Cargoes off the coast were in good demand, continental buyers taking all offerings. Exporters were free buyers in New York, Baltimore and other ports. It is estimated that about 1,000,000 bushels in all were taken. The weather conditions in the spring wheat region continue very unfavorable. Unless there should be a favorable change very soon the season for planting corn is likely to be late. A number of speculators who bought July corn below 40 cents were free sellers the early part of the session, being satisfied with a small profit. Some of the shorts in May became uneasy, and bought quite liberally. Oats were strong and in good demand by shippers for eastern points. The movement of hog products continues liberal. The market was steady, with very little change.

ANDREW J. MILLER'S ESTATE
Offers to the People
The Celebrated GUNN FOLDING BED

We claim the following points of advantage:
1st. That with our bed it is impossible to wear the carpet or mar the wall as with the "turn-around" style of combination.
2d. The ease with which it can be opened and closed, requiring no more effort to move the cabinet than to push a sliding door.
3d. The cabinet and mirror are always in view, and in the most convenient position possible.
4th. The bed may be open and not interfere with the easy access to the cabinet.
5th. The operation of opening and closing requires less floor space than any of the former styles of combination beds.
6th. The cabinet can be moved either to the right or left of the bed, whichever is most convenient to the room.
7th. Our bed is perfectly safe, as it is impossible to tip over or close up except when desired.
8th. We have the lightest weighted bed on the market, using but 40 pounds of weight and no springs to weaken, groan or get out of order.
9th. We have a comfortable bed, because you can use any bed spring desired, and have plenty of room for mattress and clothing.
10th. The entire piece can be handled in three separate parts, which makes it very convenient to move, as it can be taken up any stairs or through the smallest doorway.
11th. We have the best ventilated bed on the market, and the easiest to clean or dust. The only practical combination bed for every day use.
Thirteen different combinations.

ONE OF MANY

Cases Against Albert Thomas Results in Conviction.

HE IS A SLICK HORSE TRADER,

And He Did Up a Farmer from Dool County—A Record of Many Slick Transactions.

Albert Thomas, who has covered page after page of the criminal records of Fulton county, and who has always escaped without conviction, suffered his first verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon.

He was found guilty of cheating and swindling and as the case is a particularly aggravated one was given a fine of $500. Failing to pay this he was bound over in the sum of $1,000, pending the hearing of a motion for a new trial. Thomas is without doubt the slickest negro in Atlanta. He is a professional horse trader and an average of six cases of cheating and swindling are sworn out against him every month. Thomas's native shrewdness has always enabled him to get out of these numerous cases without even having been found guilty in a single one of them. He has been notorious for years as a shrewd horse trader.

The case yesterday was not only interesting from the facts involved, but from the hard legal fight which was made upon it.

The facts in the case are these:

Three or four months ago a farmer named Miller came to Atlanta from Dooly. He had a fine team of mules and a wagon which he wanted to sell.

About the first person Miller struck when he started out to trade was the slick Albert.

Albert's eyes sparkled as he looked upon the big, fat, sleek mules and the farmer, It was just the prey he wanted.

He told Miller, as the evidence produced in yesterday's court showed, that he was keeping three fine gray horses which belonged to a wealthy lady. These horses were well worth $600, but he had sold two of them to Mr. Walker, the liveryman, for $275. Miller only wanted $200 for his team, and Albert told him that he saw a chance where Miller could sell his team and he could make a nice sum. He would go to this lady who owned the horses and tell her that he had exchanged her three horses for a team of mules. Then he would take two of the gray horses to Mr. Walker, get a check for $275 for them, pay Miller $200 for his team and be in $75 and one horse. Miller said he had no objection to this plan and he delivered the mules to Thomas and went to the home of the rich lady to get the two gray horses to carry to Walker.

After he had gotten possession of the mules Thomas told Miller that he could not take the horses to Walker until Cliff Mayson arrived, which he would do that afternoon.

Mr. Miller took the horses to where he was stopping with the understanding that Thomas would call and carry them to Walker that afternoon. Thomas didn't come.

That was Saturday afternoon and on Monday morning one of the horses died.

Miller at once swore out a warrant against Thomas and the case came up for trial in the city court yesterday.

R. J. Jordan defended Thomas and Mr. Lewis W. Thomas conducted the prosecution. Mr. Thomas conducted the case in a splendid manner and the conviction of Thomas is due to his good management. In his speech Mr. Thomas said:

"The defendant, not satisfied with cheating and defrauding the prosecutor out of his property by base and false representations, had to fashion the raw lie into a finished villainy by refusing to give up the prosecutor's property after the trade before his exacting taste in fraud could be appeased. A penniless pimp would have scorned the secret intimations of the thought which prompted the defendant to refuse to restore the prosecutor's property, and for which he has published his prostitution."

It was proved at the trial that the rich woman Thomas had spoken of was a myth. She turned out to be a negro woman, at whose home Thomas had been keeping his stock for several years

Thomas's conviction was a great victory for Solicitor Thomas. Case after case against the negro Thomas has failed to stick and Solicitor Thomas deserves great credit for his conduct of the case yesterday.

NEW DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

Vacancies on the Ocean Steamship Board Filled.

Savannah, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Talks with President Comer and other directors of the Central develop nothing new so far as the coming election is concerned beyond a general feeling that there will be no opposition to Mr. Comer and others of the present board who will offer for re-election. A full meeting of the board was held this morning. A large amount of business was before the board, as this was the last meeting before the regular stockholders' convention on the 15th.

The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Port Royal and Augusta railway will be held in Augusta next Wednesday and there will be some matters there pressing for consideration Mr. H. M. Comer will probably be elected president of the Port Royal and Augusta in place of General Alexander, who has resigned.

The board listened today for twenty minutes to the presentation of the direct trade question by Colonel I. W. Avery and Colonel Thomas P. Stovall.

The following directors of the Ocean Steamship Company were elected in the places of John Rutherford, James Swann, General Sam Thomas, Calvin S. Brice and General E. P. Alexander, viz: Edward Karow, Louis T. Turner, Henry Blun, Malcolm MacLean and H. M. Comer, all of Savannah. A large amount of routine business was transacted.

WILLIAM H. FLEMING

Will Be the Technological School's Commencement Orator—The New Building.

Hon. William H. Fleming, Augusta's able orator and legislator, will deliver the regular annual oration at the commencement exercises of the Technological school this year.

There is not a more polished orator, nor more able young statesman in Georgia than is Hon. W. H. Fleming, and the faculty and students of the Technological school may well congratulate themselves upon the fact that they have secured such a man for their commencement orator.

Dr. Hopkins, president of the school, received a letter from Mr. Fleming yesterday, accepting the invitation to speak. The commencement exercises this year, especially in the literary department, promise to be of unusual interest.

The New Machinery Hall.

A force of hands will soon have the site for the new machinery hall cleared of the debris of the great fire, and the plans for the new building will be ready for the constructors.

Mr. Coon, the instructor of draughting, is now busily engaged drawing the plans for the new building and will submit them within the next few days.

It is the purpose of those in authority to have the new machinery hall built much after the fashion of the one that was burned.

Real Estate in Other Cities.

Says W. M. Scott, the well-known real estate dealer:

"It may be of interest to our property owners to know something of prices elsewhere. From last week's reports let us cull a few from Chicago

"A lot on Fifty-first and Cottage Grove avenue, three miles from the center of the city, was leased at a valuation of $1,000 per front foot. It cost $270 per foot in June, 1890. The old Young Men's Christian Association building—35x100—sold last week for $190,000, or $5,428 per front foot. We quote a sale of suburban land near Detroit, Mich.,—a city only twice our population: The tract, 600 acres, six and a half miles from the center of the city, sold for $1,000,000, or $1,666 per acre. This would indicate that we have not yet reached anything near relative values."

A CARLOAD OF TOBACCO

Comes on the First Through Freight of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern.

The first through-freight train on the Georgia, Carolina and Northern road arrives in Atlanta this morning, and it will bring a carload of the finest "R. J. R." tobacco, consigned to Harralson Bros & Co., the well-known tobacco firm of this city. It is from the famous tobacco establishment of R. J. Reynolds, at Winston, N. C., the Messrs. Harralson representing them in Atlanta.

The car is elaborately decorated, and is packed from top to bottom with the celebrated "R. J. R." tobacco, which is said to be the most popular brand of chewing tobacco on the market.

Telegrams received in the city last night stated that great preparations had been made all along the line of the road to give an ovation to the first through freight train. With their usual enterprise, the Messrs. Reynolds and Harralson have taken advantage of the occasion for a great shipment of tobacco, and it will be an interesting sight to observe the manner in which they have prepared their car. No expense has been spared, and the decorated "R. J. R." car will attract as much attention through the country as the first through freight which brings it.

GENIAL BOB TAYLOR,

Tennessee's Ex-Governor Will Lecture Again in Atlanta.

The many people of this city who heard ex-Governor Bob Taylor, when he lectured before the Young Men's Library Association a few months ago, will be delighted to know that he will be with us again in a few days. He will lecture at DeGive's opera house on next Wednesday night, the 11th of the month, on his most popular subject, "The Fiddle and the Bow."

This one lecture has given Mr. Taylor a reputation as a lecturer second to none in this country. Mr. D. Long Rice, his manager, says that he has made many additions and improvements in it since he last gave it in Atlanta. Mr. Taylor is just starting on a tour of the southern and western states, and is drawing full houses everywhere. His reputation as a humorist has gone before him, and his success has been great.

To the people of Atlanta he is too well known to need any further introduction than the mere mention of his name, and the cordial reception which he will receive will prove to him once more the warm place which he holds in the hearts of the people of this city.

THE FIRST CHAMBER CONCERT

Of the Von der Hoyas Will Occur Next Monday Night.

The sale of tickets and reserved seats for the first chamber concert of the Von der Hoyas will begin this morning at Millner's. Tickets for the two concerts have been placed at the low price of $1, including reserved seats for both performances. Single admission tickets for either concert are 50 cents each, reserved seats 25 cents extra. Only 400 seats will be sold.

The audience next Monday night will be the largest collection of amateur and professional musicians ever brought together in Atlanta.

Several musicales, receptions and lectures, which were announced for next Monday night, have been postponed on account of this concert.

The programme will contain such classic works as the following:

Sonata in F, opus 24, by Beethoven, for violin and piano.

Concerto No. 1, by Max Bruch, for violin.

Concerto in G, opus 26, by Mendelssohn, for piano, with second piano.

Romance in G, opus 40, by Beethoven.

Papillons, opus 28, by Schumann, for piano.

THE CUMBERLAND SEASON.

The Opening of the Cumberland Hotel Announced for May 27th.

President George W. Duncan, of the Cumberland Hotel Company, and Major W. C. Morgan, the popular manager of the hotel, are sending out broadcast announcements of the opening of the Cumberland hotel, which has been set for May 27th.

Extensive improvements have been made at this popular resort, and this season promises to be the greatest in its history. Already rooms have been engaged by more than one hundred people, and it is expected that the hotel will entertain several thousand guests during the season.

Everything possible is being done to add to the comfort, pleasure and convenience of the guests of the hotel. Special attention has been paid to the fishing feature of the island. Numerous boats have been provided, and there will be untold enjoyment for those who love this sport in and around the waters of Cumberland this summer.

The artesian well on the beach has been completed, and fresh water now flows through all the bathhouses.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will announce a special summer rate in a few days, and they are making every arrangement to carry the biggest crowd ever taken to Cumberland this season.

DR. FLIPPO'S LECTURE.

He Will Talk This Evening at the First Baptist Church.

An event for this evening will be the lecture by Dr. O. F. Flippo, of Virginia, at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Flippo comes as a delegate to the southern Baptist convention. He is well and favorably known among the Baptists of the country and a great many delegates will attend the lecture tonight besides many Atlanta people. His lecture tonight will be both humorous and instructive.

The proceeds of the entertainment will go towards the building fund of the Jackson Hill mission.

An Apron Bazaar.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold an apron bazaar in the Young Men's Christian Association building, at 73 North Pryor street, commencing Thursday morning, May 10th, and closing at the end of the week. They have aprons from England, Wales, Brazil and Canada, and from all over America. They are of every design and quality, useful and ornamental. Refreshments will be served at reasonable rates. All are invited to attend. Those ladies who have not yet sent in the aprons promised will please do so at once to Mrs. H. M. Patterson, at 27 Wheat street.

Mr. Carroll to Lecture.

The delegates and visitors of the southern Baptist convention are especially invited to come to the lecture tonight, at the Second Baptist tabernacle, to be delivered by Dr. B. H. Carroll, on "Personal Liberty." The lecture is to be given for the benefit of the Capitol avenue mission. This lecture, by Dr. Carroll, has been highly complimented by the press and the public, and is one of great strength and originality.

Watch the Knot.

The popularity of the bowknot is on the increase. The more universal it becomes the more it grows in favor. One secret of its success is that the price is as popular as the article itself. It is out of nobody's reach, and it appeals to everybody's taste. It is the latest fashion out, but it won't go out of fashion. It can be utilized in a hundred different directions and it serves well every purpose to which it is applied. If what is handsome, seasonable and stylish has any charms for you at all, you can't very well get along without it. See our line at 69 Whitehall street.

ONE OF MANY

Cases Against Albert Thomas Results in Conviction.

HE IS A SLICK HORSE TRADER,

And He Did Up a Farmer from Dool County—A Record of Many Slick Transactions.

Albert Thomas, who has covered page after page of the criminal records of Fulton county, and who has always escaped without conviction, suffered his first verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon.

He was found guilty of cheating and swindling and as the case is a particularly aggravated one was given a fine of $500. Failing to pay this he was bound over in the sum of $1,000, pending the hearing of a motion for a new trial. Thomas is without doubt the slickest negro in Atlanta. He is a professional horse trader and an average of six cases of cheating and swindling are sworn out against him every month. Thomas's native shrewdness has always enabled him to get out of these numerous cases without even having been found guilty in a single one of them. He has been notorious for years as a shrewd horse trader.

The case yesterday was not only interesting from the facts involved, but from the hard legal fight which was made upon it.

The facts in the case are these:

Three or four months ago a farmer named Miller came to Atlanta from Dooly. He had a fine team of mules and a wagon which he wanted to sell.

About the first person Miller struck when he started out to trade was the slick Albert.

Albert's eyes sparkled as he looked upon the big, fat, sleek mules and the farmer, It was just the prey he wanted.

He told Miller, as the evidence produced in yesterday's court showed, that he was keeping three fine gray horses which belonged to a wealthy lady. These horses were well worth $600, but he had sold two of them to Mr. Walker, the liveryman, for $275. Miller only wanted $200 for his team, and Albert told him that he saw a chance where Miller could sell his team and could make a nice sum. He would go to this lady who owned the horses and tell her that he had exchanged her three horses for a team of mules. Then he would take two of the gray horses to Mr. Walker, get a check for $275 for them, pay Miller $200 for his team and be in $75 and one horse. Miller said he had no objection to this plan and he delivered the mules to Thomas and went to the home of the rich lady to get the two gray horses to carry to Walker.

After he had gotten possession of the mules Thomas told Miller that he could not take the horses to Walker until Cliff Mayson arrived, which he would do that afternoon.

Mr. Miller took the horses to where he was stopping with the understanding that Thomas would call and carry them to Walker that afternoon. Thomas didn't come.

That was Saturday afternoon and on Monday morning one of the horses died.

Miller at once swore out a warrant against Thomas and the case came up for trial in the city court yesterday.

R. J. Jordan defended Thomas and Mr. Lewis W. Thomas conducted the prosecution. Mr. Thomas conducted the case in a splendid manner and the conviction of Thomas is due to his good management. In his speech Mr. Thomas said:

"The defendant, not satisfied with cheating and defrauding the prosecutor out of his property by base and false representations, had to fashion the raw ile into a finished villainy by refusing to give up the prosecutor's property after the trade before his exacting taste in fraud could be appeased. A penniless pimp would have scorned the secret intimations of the thought which prompted the defendant to refuse to restore the prosecutor's property, and for which he has published his prostitution."

It was proved at the trial that the rich woman Thomas had spoken of was a myth. She turned out to be a negro woman, at whose home Thomas had been keeping his stock for several years.

Thomas's conviction was a great victory for Solicitor Thomas. Case after case against the negro Thomas has failed to stick and Solicitor Thomas deserves great credit for his conduct of the case yesterday.

NEW DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

Vacancies on the Ocean Steamship Board Filled.

Savannah, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Talks with President Comer and other directors of the Central develop nothing new so far as the coming election is concerned beyond a general feeling that there will be no opposition to Mr. Comer and others of the present board who will offer for re-election. A full meeting of the board was held this morning. A large amount of business was before the board, as this was the last meeting before the regular stockholders' convention on the 15th.

The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Port Royal and Augusta railway will be held in Augusta next Wednesday and there will be some matters there pressing for consideration Mr. H. M. Comer will probably be elected president of the Port Royal and Augusta in place of General Alexander, who has resigned.

The board listened today for twenty minutes to the presentation of the direct trade question by Colonel I. W. Avery and Colonel Thomas P. Stovall.

The following directors of the Ocean Steamship Company were elected in the places of John Rutherford, James Swann, General Sam Thomas, Calvin S. Brice and General E. P. Alexander, viz: Edward Karow, Louis T. Turner, Henry Blun, Malcolm MacLean and H. M. Comer, all of Savannah. A large amount of routine business was transacted.

WILLIAM H. FLEMING

Will Be the Technological School's Commencement Orator—The New Building.

Hon. William H. Fleming, Augusta's able orator and legislator, will deliver the regular annual oration at the commencement exercises of the Technological school this year.

There is not a more polished orator, nor more able young statesman in Georgia than is Hon. W. H. Fleming, and the faculty and students of the Technological school may well congratulate themselves upon the fact that they have secured such a man for their commencement orator.

Dr. Hopkins, president of the school, received a letter from Mr. Fleming yesterday, accepting the invitation to speak. The commencement exercises this year, especially in the literary department, promise to be of unusual interest.

The New Machinery Hall.

A force of hands will soon have the site for the new machinery hall cleared of the debris of the great fire, and the plans for the new building will be ready for the constructors.

Mr. Coon, the instructor of draughting, is now busily engaged drawing the plans for the new building and will submit them within the next few days.

It is the purpose of those in authority to have the new machinery hall built much after the fashion of the one that was burned.

Real Estate in Other Cities.

Says W. M. Scott, the well-known real estate dealer:

"It may be of interest to our property owners to know something of prices elsewhere. From last week's reports let us cull a few from Chicago

"A lot on Fifty-first and Cottage Grove avenue, three miles from the center of the city, was leased at a valuation of $1,000 per front foot. It cost $270 per foot in June, 1890. The old Young Men's Christian Association building—35x100—sold last week for $190,000, or $5,428 per front foot. We quote a sale of suburban land near Detroit, Mich.,—a city only twice our population: The tract, 600 acres, six and a half miles from the center of the city, sold for $1,000,000, or $1,666 per acre. This would indicate that we have not yet reached anything near relative values."

A CARLOAD OF TOBACCO

Comes on the First Through Freight of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern.

The first through-freight train on the Georgia, Carolina and Northern road arrives in Atlanta this morning, and it will bring a carload of the finest "R. J. R." tobacco, consigned to Harralson Bros & Co., the well-known tobacco firm of this city. It is from the famous tobacco establishment of R. J. Reynolds, at Winston, N. C., the Messrs. Harralson representing them in Atlanta.

The car is elaborately decorated, and is packed from top to bottom with the celebrated "R. J. R." tobacco, which is said to be the most popular brand of chewing tobacco on the market.

Telegrams received in the city last night stated that great preparations had been made all along the line of the road to give an ovation to the first through freight train. With their usual enterprise, the Messrs. Reynolds and Harralson have taken advantage of the occasion for a great shipment of tobacco, and it will be an interesting sight to observe the manner in which they have prepared their car. No expense has been spared, and the decorated "R. J. R." car will attract as much attention through the country as the first through freight which brings it.

GENIAL BOB TAYLOR,

Tennessee's Ex-Governor Will Lecture Again in Atlanta.

The many people of this city who heard ex-Governor Bob Taylor, when he lectured before the Young Men's Library Association a few months ago, will be delighted to know that he will be with us again in a few days. He will lecture at DeGive's opera house on next Wednesday night, the 11th of the month, on his most popular subject, "The Fiddle and the Bow."

This one lecture has given Mr. Taylor a reputation as a lecturer second to none in this country. Mr. D. Long Rice, his manager, says that he has made many additions and improvements in it since he last gave it in Atlanta. Mr. Taylor is just starting on a tour of the southern and western states, and is drawing full houses everywhere. His reputation as a humorist has gone before him, and his success has been great.

To the people of Atlanta he is too well known to need any further introduction than the mere mention of his name, and the cordial reception which he will receive will prove to him once more the warm place which he holds in the hearts of the people of this city.

THE FIRST CHAMBER CONCERT

Of the Von der Hoyas Will Occur Next Monday Night.

The sale of tickets and reserved seats for the first chamber concert of the Von der Hoyas will begin this morning at Milliner's.

Tickets for the two concerts have been placed at the low price of $1, including reserved seats for both performances. Single admission tickets for either concert are 50 cents each, reserved seats 25 cents extra. Only 400 seats will be sold.

The audience next Monday night will be the largest collection of amateur and professional musicians ever brought together in Atlanta.

Several musicales, receptions and lectures, which were announced for next Monday night, have been postponed on account of this concert.

The programme will contain such classic works as the following:

Sonata in F, opus 24, by Beethoven, for violin and piano.

Concerto No. 1, by Max Bruch, for violin.

Concerto in G, opus 26, by Mendelssohn, for piano, with second piano.

Romance in G, opus 40, by Beethoven.

Papillons, opus 28, by Schumann, for piano.

THE CUMBERLAND SEASON.

The Opening of the Cumberland Hotel Announced for May 27th.

President George W. Duncan, of the Cumberland Hotel Company, and Major W. C. Morgan, the popular manager of the hotel, are sending out broadcast announcements of the opening of the Cumberland hotel, which has been set for May 27th.

Extensive improvements have been made at this popular resort, and this season promises to be the greatest in its history. Already rooms have been engaged by more than one hundred people, and it is expected that the hotel will entertain several thousand guests during the season.

Everything possible is being done to add to the comfort, pleasure and convenience of the guests of the hotel. Special attention has been paid to the fishing feature of the island. Numerous boats have been provided, and there will be untold enjoyment for those who love this sport in and around the waters of Cumberland this summer.

The artesian well on the beach has been completed, and fresh water now flows through all the bathhouses.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will announce a special summer rate in a few days, and they are making every arrangement to carry the biggest crowd ever taken to Cumberland this season.

DR. FLIPPO'S LECTURE.

He Will Talk This Evening at the First Baptist Church.

An event for this evening will be the lecture by Dr. O. F. Flippo, of Virginia, at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Flippo comes as a delegate to the southern Baptist convention. He is well and favorably known among the Baptists of the country and a great many delegates will attend the lecture tonight besides many Atlanta people. His lecture tonight will be both humorous and instructive.

The proceeds of the entertainment will go towards the building fund of the Jackson Hill mission.

An Apron Bazaar.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold an apron bazaar in the Young Men's Christian Association building, at 73 North Pryor street, commencing Thursday morning, May 10th, and closing at the end of the week. They have aprons from England, Wales, Brazil and Canada, and from all over America. They are of every design and quality, useful and ornamental. Refreshments will be served at reasonable rates. All are invited to attend. Those ladies who have not yet sent in the aprons promised will please do so at once to Mrs. H. M. Patterson, at 27 Wheat street.

Mr. Carroll to Lecture.

The delegates and visitors of the southern Baptist convention are especially invited to come to the lecture tonight, at the Second Baptist tabernacle, to be delivered by Dr. B. H. Carroll, on "Personal Liberty." The lecture is to be given for the benefit of the Capitol avenue mission. This lecture, by Dr. Carroll, has been highly complimented by the press and the public, and is one of great strength and originality.

TWO YEARS AGO.

I was for some time troubled with an obstinate RASH or HUMOR, that spread over my face and breast. I consulted physicians, and used many remedies without a cure. At the suggestion of a friend I used Swift's Specific, which completely cured me. This was two years ago, and I have had no return of the trouble.—E. H. WELLS, Chesterfield, Va.

S. S. S. is the safest and best remedy for all troubles of the Blood and Skin. It cures by removing the cause, and at the same time builds up the general health.

Watch the Knot.

The popularity of the bowknot is on the increase. The more universal it becomes the more it grows in favor. One secret of its success is that the price is as popular as the article itself. It is out of nobody's reach, and it appeals to everybody's taste. It is the latest fashion out, but it won't go out of fashion. It can be utilized in a hundred different directions and it serves well every purpose to which it is applied. If what is handsome, seasonable and stylish has any charms for you at all, you can't very well get along without it. See our line at 69 Whitehall street.

A Genuine Treat.

In store for every one who uses Hoyt's Dairy Butter, beyond all doubt the best butter ever brought to Atlanta; uniformity in richness of flavor and absolute purity are qualities. It is all bought from one dairy situated in the blue grass country and hence always uniform; always of that fine, rich flavor and flavor which blue grass alone imparts to fine butter. We receive it often and as ..... as it is received it is put up in one-pound ..... wrapped in linen paper and put in our ..... refrigerator, and is delivered to your house ..... and firm. Now, is it not a treat to have ..... more poor butter, no more stale butter, ... instead always the same high grade Jersey? ..... We are furnishing that high quality of butter ..... every day and can supply you. Ask any of our many pleased customers about our butter and then take their advice and come and ..... likewise, and the butter problem will trouble you no longer.

RIJAMO! RIJAMO!

Another treat is our Rijamo Coffee. We call it a treat because nothing is more exhilarating and enjoyable than a cup of fine coffee, and our Rijamo is the highest grade coffee that can be found. It is a combination of the finest coffees, so blended as to give a coffee of the finest aroma and of the best flavor. It is always sold at 35 cents per pound; as cheap as you can buy a lower grade of coffee elsewhere.

Regal Patent Flour.

Another treat is our Regal Patent Flour, made from the best wheat; it has all of the nutritious qualities of the wheat in it. It never fails to make the lightest and whitest of rolls, and is especially fine for pastry. We have hundreds of customers who extol its merits, and we have never heard of one who was not pleased with it. Try one sack or barrel.

Homemade! Homemade!

Blackberry Jam, Strawberry Jam, Jelly of every kind. Remember these goods contain no glucose, no adulterations or any kind. They are absolutely pure, containing nothing but the pure fruit and granulated sugar. They are just the same as what you make at home. The same in their home-made flavor; the same in their purity, and the same in the care and attention with which they are put up.

"BOSQUE BONITA."

A Shaded Retreat Where It Will Be Fashionable to live.

THE DIADEM OF WEST END.

An Auction Sale of Lots, and an Old-Fashioned Georgia Baabecue Will Occur at This Suburb May 10th.

Messrs. Samuel W. Goode & Co., who, doubtless, have sold more suburban property than any other real estate firm in the city, have planned an auction sale of lots for Tuesday, May 10th, which will carry Atlanta by storm.

Their last sale was immense, and attracted hundreds of capitalists and home builders, but it was not a circumstance to what the approaching one will be.

This property is a suburb which is known as the gilded section of Atlanta. It is the residence place of many of Atlanta's wealthiest citizens. Next to Peachtree street, it is, perhaps, the toniest adjunct to Atlanta. None but the very best class of people live at or near West End. From the very first it attracted the attention of those who desired to build model homes and were careless as to the expense involved.

This property consists of fifty beautifully platted and splendidly located lots, all of which are embowered in the shade of majestic oaks.

This ideal reservation has been very appropriately named "Bosque Bonita," the English of which is "beautiful woods." Bosque Bonita is situated at the junction of Gordon street and the Sandtown road. This is one of the most populous streets in Atlanta, and is macadamized to Battle Hill, which lies beyond Westview cemetery. The property is made conveniently accessible by the Consolidated electric street car lines, over which elegant cars run every few minutes.

Messrs. Goode & Co. will make a special event of the auction sale on Tuesday, May 10th. They are preparing a regular old-fashioned Georgia barbecue, which is so dear to the hearts of Atlantians, and have arranged for some excellent music with which to regale lot purchasers between acts.

If there is a man in Atlanta who wants to be in the fashionable swim and wishes to have a home in one of the most popular and much-sought-after suburbs around Atlanta, he should certainly attend the sale on May 10th and buy one or more lots at Bosque Bonita.

It is property which will surely go high up in the scale of values and become one of Atlanta's most noted residence centers.

The tricks of the speculator and real estate shark are never indulged in by Messrs. Goode & Co. Nearly everybody who has bought lots at their sales purchased on a basis of their legitimate values, and if they resold subsequently made a handsome profit on the transaction. These lots will be sold to the highest bidder, and the man of wide means will have as fair showing at them as the rich man. It will not take a fortune to buy one of these lots, and the small-salaried man will find that he can buy a home site at Bosque Bonita on remarkably easy terms. In fact, he would be required to pay only one-third of the purchase price in cash, and the two remaining payments may be made in one, two and three years, as best suits his convenience. A purchaser would find his lot almost doubled in value before he completed the payments. There is no chance to lose anything, and a most extraordinary opportunity to secure a desirable home site, and this fact should appeal to every man with the responsibilities of a family on him.

The beauty about the lots at Bosque Bonita is that one does not have to set out his shade trees. Nature has provided them in abundance, and all that the purchaser has to do is to erect his home castle under their drooping shade. The date of this sale should be kept in mind. It occurs at 10 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday, May 10th, and those who wish to attend the sale will be given a free ride to Bosque Bonita, and one of the most appetizing feasts of barbecued meats they have partaken of this year. But these are only incidentals. The main event of the day is the money-making opportunity which will be offered to lot purchasers.

THE GRADY HOSPITAL

Will Be Opened Between the 15th and 20th of This Month.

The Grady hospital will open its doors between the 15th and 20th of this month.

The work of getting the house properly furnished is progressing most satisfactorily to Chairman Joseph Hirsch.

Mr. Hirsch states that he has received already about twenty applications for admittance to the hospital by the old confederate veterans.

All of the linen which is to supply the hospital for the present has been received by Mr. Hirsch, and is now being laundried.

Mr. Hirsch states that the hospital is badly in need of $400 to complete the payment of a few debts which have been contracted in furnishing the building.

The house physicians and surgeons have been elected. They are Dr. H. L. Gill, chief surgeon and physician, Dr. C. D. Nolan, of Madison, senior assistant, and Dr. C. M. George, of Lithonia.

The trustees will hold a regular meeting next Friday, to arrange a programme for the opening of the hospital.

THE TEMPLE OF JUSTICE.

The City Court Grinding Out Cases Rapidly Judge Van Epps's Books.

Judge Howard Van Epps is now busily engaged in the compilation of another law book.

It is an index digest of Georgia reports, from 82 to 100, and is intended to follow up the work as begun and outlined by Judge Van Epps in his index of the reports from 62 to 81. That book required two years in compilation. Judge Van Epps hopes to have the second volume completed by the time the 100th report is out. There is a great deal of hard work about the task, and Judge Van Epps has been laboring continually on it for months and months.

In the City Court.

There has been no session of Judge Van Epps's court for the past week.

The court will be convoked again next Monday, however, to try the remaining cases on the docket, there being but four now for trial.

Judge Van Epps has worked off the enormous docket that has heretofore been piled up before him, and is now clear up with his work.

The Other Courts.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke and Judge Richard H. Clark have held no courts this week.

Judge Richard H. Clark has not yet sentenced Peter Daniels, the murderer of Sylvia Lyle, but everybody knows it will be to hang, since there was no recommendation for mercy.

ALL ABOARD FOR MADDOX PARK.

The Conductors' Picnic Takes Place There Today—A Fine Programme.

The conductors' picnic at Maddox park today promises to be one of the largest of the picnic season.

It will require probably ten or twelve passenger coaches to carry the first train load to the grounds.

This will be the sixth annual picnic given by the Order of Railway Conductors, and Messrs. Zach Martin, G. W. Evans and J. W. Humphries compose the committee of arrangements. These gentlemen have engaged the Fourth Artillery band for the day.

There will be a barbecue during the day.

Trains will leave the union passenger depot for the grounds at 8 o'clock in the morning, at 10:30 o'clock and again at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its host of imitations; every genuine article its counterfeits. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies, and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are the standard of excellence the world over, and imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as ALLCOCK'S," are only emphasizing this fact and admitting "ALLCOCK'S" to be the acme of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between gold and copper.

The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having

6 Lovely Shaded Lots in West End

Friday, May 6, 1892, at 3:30 p. m.

These are the most central and most desirable West End lots that will be offered you this year. They are beautifully located on the extension of Whitehall street, on the opposite side across the railroad from Mr. Anthony Murphey's handsome home. The lots are all large and well shaded, and within three minutes' walk from Caldwell's store in West End, and the hour train on the Central railroad is equal to electric cars, and stops immediately in front of this property. The new electric line is only a short distance in the rear of these lots, so that they can be reached by three passenger routes. The surroundings are the best—Mr. Anthony Murphey in front, with Mr. Dupree and Mr. Russell between, and Mr. Marion Roberts's superb home just beyond. Neighbors, Shropshire, Culberson, Van-Dyke and others close by.

Buy at this sale and build you a home, or sell a few months later for a handsome profit. Such magnificent residence property speaks for itself.

The sale is absolute, the terms are easy and the titles perfect.

Terms, one-third cash, balance 12 and 18 months, 8 per cent interest. Free ride to all who attend. Take 3 o'clock p. m. Central railroad hour train at Whitehall street crossing, where tickets will be furnished FREE to all who attend sale.

Some people dress wrong. Go where you please you'll find such. Bank presidents, editors, judges, physicians, lawyers, merchants, as well as the every-day business man. No use for it. About two-thirds of our store is now devoted to spring suits. It's curious to watch how quickly fashion picks out the best for service and makes it the "go." For sturdy wear and effective mixture and colors the Scotch Homespuns seem to take with the young men—good reason for it. There's style about them; there's solidity. We have light and dark shades, loud and quiet patterns, made up in keeping with their goodness.

If you want a Suit, we don't see how you can help getting the one you like here.

For the bits of Boys' handsome Clothes, made as they should be and from the right stuffs. We have touched every side of the Boys' Suit question; touched with knowledge. You know the result if you've lately seen our stock:

SALESROOMS PACKED WITH BUYERS.
SALESROOMS PACKED WITH BUYERS.
SALESROOMS PACKED WITH BUYERS.

Why? It's a short story. Buyers have found the place to buy proper Clothing at low prices—popular prices marked in plain figures. Make, fit, finish exactly right; none of the little things skipped that count for so much in good tailoring. Isn't it true, and does it require eyeglasses to determine why we sell at lower prices?

IT'S SELLING BY THOUSANDS.
IT'S SELLING BY THOUSANDS.
IT'S SELLING BY THOUSANDS.

That cheapens the production. We manufacture, and everybody knows a thousand can be produced at lower prices than a hundred. Yet, some dealers buy their stock by the dozen. How can they compete, when we manufacture, and by the thousands for our Washington, Baltimore and Atlanta retail outlets?
